The offering was for Diocesan Missions, amounting to $33.84.

The Convention was called to order by the Bishop at 10.45 A. M. and, a quorum being present, proceeded to business.

The Order of the Day being the election of a Secretary, the Rev. L. N. Caley nominated the Rev. Richard J. Morris.

On motion, the nominations were closed and the President, having cast the ballot, declared Mr. Morris duly elected.

The Secretary appointed as Assistant Secretary

the Rev. Charles S. Lyons.

The Convention confirmed the appointment.

The Rev. L. N. Caley presented the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE DISPATCH OF BUSINESS

as follows:

Your Committee presents herewith its suggested program for the dispatch of business during the Convention.

It is to be understood that the hours referred to in the program are those known as Daylight Saving Time.

In order to expedite the order of business, your Committee suggests that all Reports be made by Title as far as possible. And all through the Convention Resolutions to discharge Committees from further consideration of the subject be omitted, it being understood that they are so discharged unless the Convention recommit the matter to their further consideration, or unless the work of the Committee is unfinished.

Your Committee further recommends that Section III of the Standing Orders of the Convention, which calls for an Evening Session of the Convention to be held the first day to receive the Report of the Department of Missions, be repealed.

L. N. CALEY, C. L. HARPER,
G. H. TOOP, W. L. LANDRETH,
C. R. WOODRUFF.

The recommendation concerning the Evening Session was adopted.

The Report as a whole was adopted.

The Rev. T. L. Gossling presented the

together with the assignment of pews, which was adopted.

The Secretary of the Convention reported that he had fulfilled his duties in accordance with the Canons so far as has been possible. He has been unable, however, to make a proper Report to the Secretary of the General Convention, inasmuch as Parish Reports have not been received on time, while many of those which are sent are imperfect. This refers particularly to the Number of Baptized Persons; the Number of Churches, Rectories, Parish Houses, etc., with their Values and Holders of Titles—all of which except the last are required by Canon—so that the true strength of the Diocese cannot be shown and the Church as a whole is weakened thereby.

The Secretary reported as Unfinished Business from the Convention of 1924 the following:

1. Report of the Executive Council in re Law Observance.
2. Report of Committee on Music.
3. Report of Committee on Alterations in the Prayer Book.

The Secretary read the Canon of Courtesy, as follows:

Canon II, Section VII. Clergymen belonging to this Diocese, but not entitled to seats in this Convention, Clergymen of other Dioceses of this Church, Clergymen of other Churches in communion with this Church, Candidates for Holy Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and all persons holding any office of trust under this Convention, though not members, shall be admitted to the sittings of this Convention.

The Secretary announced that boxes for the Registration of the Clerical and Lay Deputies would be found in the vestibule of the Church.

The Secretary reported that the following Parishes have not sent in Certificates of Election of Lay Deputies and therefore have no Lay Deputies at this Convention:

Christ Church, Eddington; Trinity Church, Coatesville; S. John's Church, Northern Liberties; S. Luke's Church, Chadds Ford; Church of The Annunciation, Philadelphia; S. Mary's Church, Philadelphia.

The Secretary reported that the following Parishes have not sent in Parochial Reports for 1924:

Emmanuel Church, Kensington; S. Barnabas Church, Haddington.

and that the following Parishes have not paid the required Assessments for 1924:

Church of The Annunciation, Philadelphia; S. Bartholomew's Church, Philadelphia; S. Elisabeth's Church, Philadelphia.

The Rev. F. C. Hartshorne offered the following Resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the right of Representation in this Convention of those Parishes which have not sent Parochial Reports, or paid their Assessments, be declared forfeited; but that they be invited to present to the Committee on Claims of Laity to Seats any facts which seem to them to justify a restoration of such right of Representation; and, that the said Committee be instructed to consider such facts and make appropriate recommendations to the Convention; and, that meanwhile the Lay Representatives from said Parishes be invited to take their seats, but to refrain from participating in the proceedings until the Convention shall have restored the right of Representation of their Parishes.

The President appointed the following Committees:

Claims of Clergy Seats:

The Rev. J. M. Collins. The Rev. A. A. Ewing.
The Rev. C. E. Eder.

Claims of Laity to Seats:

Mr. C. L. Harper. Mr. H. H. Bonnell.
Mr. Louis Dalmas.

The Secretary reported in re Standing Order VI, Nominations and Elections. In 1921 the Convention adopted the Preferential Ballot for use during the two succeeding years in place of the Preliminary Ballot method which had been in force. In 1923 this was amended and adopted for 1924. In 1924 the following Resolution was passed "That the Preferential Ballot be discontinued." This action was incomplete in that it left the Convention without any sufficient method of elections for 1925. Under these circumstances and inasmuch as the accompanying discussion seemed to imply that a return to the method of 1921 was desired, a Preliminary Ballot was sent out, in accordance to the rule prevailing in that year, to the 247 Clergy entitled to vote according to the List prepared by the Ecclesiastical Authority, and to the three Lay Deputies of the 139 Parishes in union with the Convention: 664 in all. One hundred and seven of these were returned, of which 9 were totally defective and others partly so, and the Official Ballot has been prepared and sent out. The balloting will take place in the Church House between 1.45 and 2.30 P. M. Each ticket must be deposited in the box marked with the name of the Office to be filled, one box for the Clergy and another for the Parishes, each Parish having one vote. The Official Ballot has been prepared on a single sheet in order that the Deputies may be sure to obtain a complete set of Ballots; when you vote, therefore, it will be necessary to separate the different tickets and deposit each in the proper box. The Ballot for Alternate Deputies to the General Convention will not be taken until after the Deputies are elected. A List of Clergy and Parishes entitled to vote may be seen on the desk when the Convention recesses.

The Rev. L. N. Caley offered the following Resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Convention endorses the interpretation by the Secretary of the action taken by the Convention last year with regard to the method of balloting and of his consequent action in preparing ballots for this Convention.

Dr. Caley presented the following Resolution:

Resolved, That the Convention returns to the method of balloting described in the Diocesan Canons of the year 1921, which has just been read by the Secretary.

The Rev. L. M. Robinson offered the following substitute, which was accepted by the mover and adopted:

Resolved, That Standing Order VI, which was in force last year, be repealed, and that Standing Order VI of the year 1921 be the Method of Election.

Nominations for Offices to be filled by the Convention being in order, the Secretary read the list of those who received 10 votes on the Preliminary Ballot as follows:

Standing Committee (see below and page 49).

Executive Council (see page 50), Mr. William Alexander was added by nomination from the floor.

Deputies to the General Convention (see page 51), the Rev. G. E. Pember and Mr. L. B. Runk were added.

Alternate Deputies to the General Convention (see page 74), the Rev. J. M. Collins, the Rev. A. R. Van Meter and Mr. J. L. Evans were added; the Rev. J. C. Mockridge withdrew his name.
Trustees of the Diocese (see below).

Board of Control of the Diocesan Library (see below).
Church Advocate (see below).
Commissary (see below).
Board of Triers (see below), the Rev. W. C. Pugh and the Rev. H. A. Walton were added.

After the names on each ticket were read and opportunity was given for Nominations from the Floor, on motion, that ticket was closed and the Secretary was instructed to cast the Ballot where only the requisite number had been nominated.

In pursuance of the above Resolution, the Secretary having cast the required Ballot, the President declared elected:

1. Resolved, That it is the conviction of this Convention that the minimum salary for clergymen who have been in Priest's Orders ten years or more should be $2,400 and Rectory. The Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions is hereby instructed to make a further study of the subject, and report to the next Annual Convention ways and means of putting this conviction into effect. In the meantime the Parishes of the Diocese are urged to meet this standard.

And Further, That the Executive Council through its Department of Missions, he requested to make a study of the proposed change as it shall affect the Missions of the Diocese; and that such committee as may be appointed for this purpose meet with the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions to compare findings before the Commission presents its final report to the Convention.

2. Resolved, That for the year 1926 the minimum salary for clergymen who have been in Priest's Orders for eight years be increased from $2,000 and Rectory to $2,100 and Rectory; and that the Executive Council is hereby instructed to provide for this increase as to the Missionaries through its Department of Missions; and that the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions is hereby instructed to provide, where necessary, for this increase as to Rectors through the Sustentation Fund.

3. Resolved, That Parishes not now paying at least $2,100 and Rectory to their rectors, if they have been in Priest's Orders eight years, be requested and urged to do so in every case where it is possible, so that the burden on the whole Diocese through the Sustentation Fund may be as light as possible.

4. Resolved, That the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions be authorized to assess the Parishes and Missions of the Diocese in a sum not exceeding $20,000 for the purposes of the Sustentation Fund for 1926.

5. Resolved, That the Annual Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania records its appreciation of the generous action of the Trustees of the Pension Fund in providing an outright grant to the widow upon the death of a clergyman. The help and comfort this brings to over-strained purses and over-burdened hearts at such a crisis can hardly be exaggerated.

This Convention, however, respectfully expresses its dissent from the rule that only the widows of clergymen dying in active service shall receive this gratuity. We believe that the widows of clergymen who had already retired at the time of death deserve, and often need most, such immediate assistance. We therefore ask that in the future whatever funds are available for such kindly and Christian purpose be divided pro rata and without discrimination as to service among the widows of all the clergy during the year.

Resolved Further, That the Deputies from this Diocese to the General Convention of 1925 are hereby instructed to present this Resolution to that Convention as a Memorial from the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

The Polls were declared open at 1.45 until 2.30 P. M.

The Convention took a Recess until 2.30 P. M.

That the Charter is in proper form, being substantially in that of the Approved Form of Charter, and that it conforms to the requirements of the Canons and of Article IV, Section 2, of the Constitution of the Diocese.

Mr. W. P. Barba presented by Title the

REPORT OF THE CHRISTMAS FUND

and offered the following Resolution, which was adopted and ordered printed in THE JOURNAL:

The Trustees of the Christmas Fund desire to record their deep appreciation of the usefulness of George Harrison Fisher, who served as Treasurer of the Fund for over forty years. First elected by the Convention of 1884, Mr. Fisher came to the Board of Trustees when one of the original trustees named by the Convention of 1841, the year in which the Fund was established, was still active in its affairs. The invested funds were about sixteen thousand dollars. Most of the money paid to the Beneficiaries was received from the Christmas collections of the Diocese. During the long period he was Treasurer the invested funds increased by gifts, legacies and savings to more than eight times the amount in hand when he took charge.

Mr. Fisher always had the greatest respect for the wishes of the Founders and Donors of the Fund, and believed that its value for the Clergy of the Diocese and their widows and orphaned children was very great. His services were given unselfishly, and it may truthfully be said that during his connection with the trust he bestowed the most careful attention to all the matters of business with which the Trustees had to deal, carrying the burden of the work cheerfully and feeling fully repaid by the gratitude manifested by the beneficiaries of the Fund. His recent serious and prolonged illness necessitating the relinquishment of the post, is extremely regrettable to the Trustees.

Mr. Fisher has endeared himself personally to the Board to an unusual degree. They wish to express their warm personal regard for him and their high appreciation of his abilities, accomplishments and character as a man, as well as of his public services to the community, and his deep interest in the welfare of the Church.

It is hoped that his remaining days may be relieved of suffering and that he may soon renew those activities in his private life which have for so long constituted his interests and pleasures.

Mr. Harold Goodwin offered the following Resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Convention be instructed to convey to Mr. George Harrison Fisher the sympathy of this Convention in his grave illness.

This Convention completes my first year as Bishop of the Diocese. For the two winters preceding I acted as Ecclesiastical Authority, and naturally there is no particular element of novelty in the work.

I desire to express my appreciation of the hearty co-operation given to me by all our official Boards and Committees. The Episcopal Residence has been put in first-class condition, thanks to the generous provision made for that purpose last year, and the plans carried out by the Standing Committee.

I do not think that the members of this Convention fully realize how much self-sacrificing labor must be given to the affairs of a great Diocese like ours by the officers elected on our various Boards—the Standing Committee, our Executive Council (with all its Departments), and others. They are instant "in season, out of season," in attending to their duties. I will not refer at length to the many interests which have received their careful consideration, but I hope that every member of the Convention will carefully read their reports when they are published in the Journal.

The Bishop's Fund

During the past year the offerings for the Bishop's Fund have amounted to $3425.20, from 130 Churches and Missions. It is the largest sum ever given in the history of the Diocese for this purpose, and I appreciate this generous response on the part of our people.

There are many calls on this Fund. A great part of it was spent on relief and other necessities in the families of the clergy, and practically all the balance on business connected with the missionary work in our Diocese.

In addition to the offerings in the Churches I made an appeal to a few persons, and received and distributed the sum of $1500, to pay for sundry items incurred during the administration of my predecessor, but for which he was not personally responsible, as they were undertaken for the Diocese. One of these was a bill amounting to over $700 for the service of an architect in preparing plans for a building that was not erected, and practically all the balance was spent on work among the Foreign-Born—most of it for lawyer's fees and other legal expenses in connection with the Hungarian Reformed congregation. There is over $500 due on this last account, but I trust that it will be finally settled within a few months and all outstanding bills paid.

New Buildings

St. Aidan's Chapel and Parish House, Cheltenham, have been erected during the past year, the cornerstone being laid on June 24th, and the first service in the new building being held on Thanksgiving Day, November 27th.

The basement of the Parish House of St. Gabriel's Church on the Boulevard was completed and occupied last September.

The new Glenside Parish House of St. Peter's at Weldon was opened on November 13th. The building and ground cost $28,000.

A new Parish House has been erected for St. John's, Lansdowne, at a cost of about $35,000.

The Church of The Holy Innocents, Tacony, has purchased a Rectory at a cost of $13,000; and a Rectory has also been purchased for the Church of The Advent, Kennett Square, for $8500.

A Parish House for St. David's Church, Radnor, has been erected as a memorial to Ellen Waln Harrison, wife of Charles Custis Harrison, a gift of their children, and will be dedicated in the autumn.

Ground has been broken for a new Parish House of The House of Prayer, Branchtown, and the cornerstone will be laid next month.

St. Timothy's Church, Roxborough, has built a new Rectory on the Church grounds, and the Rectory at Drexel Hill is now ready for occupancy.

A lot has been purchased for the new Mission at Springfield, Delaware County.

Many of our Parishes and Missions have also put in memorials, but they are too numerous to mention in this address. I should, however, call attention to the fact that our Mission at Prospect Park has been working hard to secure enough funds to build a Rectory; without any outside aid they have $3,000 on hand for that purpose.

In these modern days, when radio broadcasting has become so universal, it hardly seems necessary to refer to the growing custom of broadcasting our Church Services. In Holy Trinity Parish this has been done for several years, but it may be a matter of interest in the generations to come, to state that St. Paul's Church, Ogontz, has installed its own radio broadcasting station, and used it for the first time on Easter Day. I believe this is the first Parish to have its own equipment for direct broadcasting.

It is important that a Diocese like Pennsylvania should be well represented in the General Convention.

The General Convention

We cannot justly complain that we have not proportionate representation in that body, as we have not adopted that principle in our own Diocese. Nevertheless, the fact remains that with nearly 70,000 Communicants we have the same number of Deputies and the same vote as small Dioceses with two or three thousand Communicants. It is therefore incumbent upon us to elect on our delegation clergymen and laymen who know the Diocese, who are sufficiently interested to take a real part in its work, and can give the leadership that is commensurate with the position of their Diocese and the large number of Communicants they represent.

There are many important questions to be considered at the General Convention. In the revision of the Prayer Book amendments will come up for final action, and others for initial action; the report of the Committee on Increased Powers of Provinces must be seriously considered; the question of the adoption of the Budget for the next triennium is a very important one, demanding careful thought, and there will be many other questions of interest to the Church at large.

Whatever quota may be recommended by the National Council, we must remember that the amount that this Diocese has been able to raise through parochial and individual offerings credited to the Parishes, has been only about sixty per cent. of the Maintenance Budget. It will be very foolish to vote for the adoption of a Budget by the General Convention which even implies that we can raise the forty per cent. additional, unless the members of this Convention feel that such a promise can be fulfilled, and will bend every effort to raise that additional amount.

National Council Budget

The budget for the work of the National Council has been so large that for some years past it has demanded the cessation of forward work in our Diocese. It is manifest that we cannot continue to sacrifice our own work, for our future ability to give depends upon "strengthening the stakes" at home. On the other hand, if in appealing to our people we emphasize the fact that we have been neglecting our own work in the Diocese, it is not conducive toward reaching the result that we desire for our Domestic and Foreign Missionary Offerings. For years past, therefore, we have not only left out of consideration our own forward work, but have deliberately declined to emphasize it; now, however, the time has come when we must take it up, and we have promised to do so next year.

But before we devote a considerable portion of our thought and efforts to carrying out such a Diocesan program, we would request our clergymen and laymen to give their undivided attention during this winter to the one thought of fulfilling our duty in larger measure to the missionary work under the care of the National Council.

The Missionary Situation

I hope that every member of the Diocese read that list of missionaries who have gone out from Pennsylvania, or have been educated in this Diocese and are now laboring in the domestic and foreign fields, as published in THE CHURCH NEWS. Among them are recorded seven bishops, sixteen American clergy, eleven native clergy, seven deaconesses, four nurses, twenty-five female teachers, one male teacher, two doctors, seven female workers, and one male worker, a total of eighty-one.

It is estimated that it would take about $110,000 a year to support all these missionaries. Over and above the sum given by the Lenten offering and the Woman's Auxiliary, this is approximately the total of our Parish offerings. It would be splendid indeed if during this year every one of these eighty-one workers could be supported by the Parishes and Missions of this Diocese as special representatives. I would again point out, as I did a few years ago, that we would obtain much better results, and a deeper interest in our missionary work, if we present it in terms of living missionaries rather than as a sum of money for a general fund.

Our Department of Finance is considering a plan which, based on the experience of the past six years, may prove effective in securing large offerings for our missionary work. We are in hearty sympathy with this effort, and trust that they will be able to evolve an arrangement which will appeal to the clergy and laity of the Diocese. It is imperative that we should find a more successful method than the one now in operation, and the Department will gladly welcome any constructive suggestions looking toward this end.

Missionary Offerings

Our Lenten offering last year exceeded all previous records, amounting to almost $65,000; and we hope that this year will show an increase in that amount.

The United Thank Offering presented to the General Convention in 1922 amounted to $72,000. The Treasurer has now over $63,000 toward the triennial offering to be presented in October, so there is every reason to believe that when the final returns are received, the offering of the Diocese will be much larger than it was three years ago.

Seamen's Church Institute

During the winter the cornerstone was laid for the new building of the Seamen's Church Institute. The building will be completed in a few months. On March 31st the last service was held in the Chapel of The Redeemer, at Front and Queen Streets, and the Sentence of Consecration removed, so that the building could be sold and used for secular purposes.

The architect has designed one room in the new building as a Chapel, in memory of the late W. W. Frazier. This room will perpetuate our work at the old site, as it will bear the name of the "Chapel of The Redeemer."

The income from the invested funds of the Church Institute for Seaman will be paid to the Seamen's Church Institute.

The Sheltering Arms

I reported to the last Convention the failure of negotiations to open a home for aged clergymen and their wives on the property on School Lane, given to us by the Harris family to use for a Church Institution. Shortly after the adjournment of the Convention I offered the property to The Sheltering Arms, and it was accepted by the Trustees. The old property of The Sheltering Arms, at Franklin and Brown Streets, was sold, and after necessary alterations and repairs were made, the Institution moved into its new home. The change has been very beneficial, giving us a larger opportunity for the development of the work, while there has been also a marked improvement in the health of the women and babies under our care.

A few weeks ago, through the hearty co-operation of the Board of Managers of The Midnight Mission, which met jointly with representatives of the Board of The Sheltering Arms, a merger was effected between these two corporations and the necessary legal steps are now being taken to carry out the terms of the agreement. We all believe that this is a step in the right direction. The property of The Midnight Mission will be sold, and representatives of the Board of that corporation will be added to the Board of Council and the Board of Managers of "Ravenswood," the name popularly used for The Sheltering Arms. The proceeds of the sale of the house of The Midnight Mission and the trust funds will be added to the endowment of the merged Institutions.

The Church Farm School has just completed the best year in the seven years of its existence. First, a debt of $20,000 was cleared by the Boards and friends of the School, thus enabling the School to meet its obligations month by month.

The Church Farm School

Then Mr. T. Broom Belfield, seeing that the growth of the School was impaired by lack of mechanical facilities, has given a building to be known as the Belfield Shops, containing a machine shop and a carpenter shop, with considerable equipment for their operation.

The first unit of the Home of The Good Shepherd is now occupied by the Junior School, and the second unit is under construction and will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

The properties to the east and west of the School grounds were placed on the market for sale, at a moderate figure, and the Trustees thought it well to purchase both of these properties so as to insure the development of the work in the years to come.

There are now seventy-five boys in the School; when the new class is admitted in the fall there will be between ninety and one hundred. The friends of the School have been very generous, and all interested in its development are proud of its achievement.

During May of last year the Divinity School conducted its Campaign for a million dollars—that sum to be used partly for building purposes and partly for endowments. The effort was a success, in more ways than one. The funds asked for were pledged; the Campaign brought the matter of the ministry and its proper training to the attention of large numbers of people; it won many friends for the School; and it helped us all to realize the latent power of the Church in this Diocese to accomplish great things when once interest is aroused.

The School has promptly begun the erection of the buildings most urgently needed. Most important is the St. Andrew's Chapel, whose walls are rising rapidly. The corner-stone will be laid on Commencement Day, June 4th, and it is hoped that the building may be ready for use at some time before the Commencement of 1926. Two faculty houses also, and the Deanery, are under way and will be finished this autumn. The Deanery will be a Memorial to William W. Frazier and his wife, Harriet (Harrison) Frazier, and one of the Faculty Houses is a Memorial to Paul Borda Kurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Kurtz.

It is a profound satisfaction to the friends of the School to realize that the inner development of its life is keeping pace with this external progress. The undergraduate enrolment for this year has been the largest in the School's history; and the Dean informs me that there is already assurance of a great increase of students for next year. Meanwhile, the Joint Boards have revised and raised the admission requirements, and with the Faculty are considering carefully other important steps for the educational development of the work.

The success of the Campaign for the Japan Reconstruction Fund last autumn was of more than local significance, as it was an object lesson to the Church at large, showing conclusively that in other Dioceses the people would respond generously to the appeal of the National Council on behalf of our brethren in Japan. As a first result similar campaigns are now being conducted elsewhere.

The Japan Reconstruction Fund

In the name of the Diocese I have personally thanked every worker who aided in the accomplishment of this noteworthy result, and I rejoice with them that others have been moved to follow their example.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

During the past year there has been a widespread interest manifested throughout the country with regard to the work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The National Office, located in our Church House, has more requests from Rectors for the organization of Chapters than has been the case for many years.

The local Brotherhood in this Diocese has engaged one of the students of our Divinity School to give his spare time as a visitor to the existing Chapters, and to aid Rectors in organizing new Chapters where they are willing to do so.

In these days when we have so many meetings which must necessarily discuss the best interests of a great Diocese like ours, it is more essential than at any time in our past history that we shall conserve the interests of such an organization as the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which exists primarily for spiritual ideals—for prayer and service. I wish we could have a strong Chapter of the Brotherhood in every Parish and Mission. If we could get every member of our Executive Council, and of our various committees, active also in Brotherhood work and in the preservation of the high ideals for which the Brotherhood of St. Andrew stands, that kind of a combination of prayer and service would mean the dawn of a new day in the history of our Diocese.

The Survey

After my installation last year I announced the plan of having a survey of the Diocese, to ascertain the most pressing needs, especially for our Missions and Institutions. This subject was carefully considered by the Missionary Council of Advice, and the project also met with the enthusiastic approval of the clergy and of the Vestrymen's Association.

As part of the program it was announced last spring that after the close of the campaign for the Philadelphia Divinity School and the Japan Reconstruction Fund, no other campaigns would be undertaken by the Diocese until the survey was completed. We have now prepared a preliminary draft of the survey for Missions, and hope to have a full report ready by next spring, so that with the counsel of our advisory boards we can prepare constructive plans for the future. In further preparation of this plan before the summer vacation, I hope to gather groups of clergymen in various districts of the city, to consult with them about the present condition of the work in their respective neighborhoods, looking at the Church's work from the standpoint of the community rather than the individual Parish. It is my hope that this will lead to similar consultations with their respective vestries.

I think that as a Church we fail to realize the tremendous changes going on in this great city, and how essential it is that we shall work together to conserve the best interests of the Church, and to see that our influence is not dissipated, but rather from time to time our methods of operation wisely changed and enlarged to meet the ever-changing conditions. I trust that the time is not far distant when every Parish and Mission facing a changing condition with dwindling congregations and a reduction of income from the offerings of the people instead of abandoning locations, will be ready and willing to co-operate in a plan by which work in every community can be continued, even though it may be wise to give up or materially change the character of work done by the parochial organizations. Some definite plans looking toward this end are now under way. If such a system had been in operation years ago, we would now hold the strategic position of being able to minister to many Foreign-Born Congregations in our city, with ample funds for such work, instead of losing valuable properties because of changes in the neighborhood.

In the name of the Diocese I desire to place on record our thanks to the Bishop of Western Nebraska, who for two months assisted in visitations for confirmation. Bishop Beecher received a warm welcome from his many friends, and endeared himself to all who had the privilege of his ministrations.

Episcopal Assistance

It would be untrue to say that the administration of a Diocese like Pennsylvania is an easy task, but with the efficient assistance given by the Officers of the Diocese, and our various committees charged with responsibility, I have not experienced any difficulty in the administration excepting in the appointments for confirmation in the Lenten Season. The plan I have followed during the last three winters, of having a visiting bishop for a few months in Lent, has made it possible for me to keep every engagement, and it is my intention to continue this plan, securing a different bishop each year. The presence of one of our missionary bishops for such temporary service, is always available, and his ministrations are helpful to us in promoting the missionary interest of our people.

I am not prepared at this time to announce any definite plans about the Cathedral.

The Cathedral

I realize how essential it is to have a plan toward which we might be working, but as the matter is one that concerns not merely the Cathedral Foundation, but the whole Diocese, it is of such great importance that even a general plan must be the result of mature and prayerful thought and deliberation. I am sure that at the present moment we are specially concerned with the functioning of a Cathedral Foundation for community service, and that with a proper endowment this work could be speedily inaugurated. I do not believe that we can justify the tremendous expense involved in the building of Cathedral Churches, unless they are not merely expressive of the common interests of our people in worship, but at the same time expressive of our common interests in ministering to the community.

In both New York and Washington splendid sites have been secured, large endowments provided, and parts of the edifices erected—enough in which to carry on the services and to function. In this city we have neither site, nor building,—nor even a substantial endowment. The latter has not yet reached $100,000, and it provides only an annual income of about $5,000. New York is the financial center of our Nation, and Washington is the city in which for some generations our Senate and Congress have met and our President has lived.

But there is no Diocese in America where a Cathedral Foundation, with a building amply endowed, could make a greater contribution to the whole community than in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. I do not minimize the claims of Puritan New England, nor do I underestimate the history of Virginia since the first settlement at Jamestown; nevertheless it is a fact that there is no city so expressive of the continuity of the Church and Nation as our own, where the Church was organized and where the Nation was born. Looking back to our historic background and our Colonial history, remembering that the Revolution centered around this great City, and that the Keystone State was the turning point in the Civil War, we all realize that though cathedrals are built elsewhere, there is a distinct atmosphere in Philadelphia and one that breathes the spirit of the Nation. There never can be, properly speaking, a national cathedral in the United States, but when a cathedral is built in Philadelphia it is bound to become the Mecca of our people, as it will bear witness to the faith of our fathers and to their contribution in the making of our Nation. The erection of a beautiful building does not in itself create the atmosphere that influences most potentially life and character; it is the continuity of the history of the city in which it is erected that creates the atmosphere that lives on from generation to generation.

With a full realization of these facts, we trust that many men and women of great wealth will be ready and willing to aid in the inception of this great plan for the future, and, as the first step, by generous contributions raise a substantial foundation fund for community service. As Pennsylvanians we have no vital interest in the building of Cathedrals in the City of New York or Washington—but, as patriotic Pennsylvanians and loyal Churchmen, we have a clear and definite duty to fulfil at home.

In Baptism we become members of the Church, not of a Parish, nor even of a Diocese. So at ordination a man becomes a priest of the Church, not of a Parish, nor of a Diocese; and a bishop is consecrated as a bishop of the Church of God.

Diocesan Responsibility

The jurisdiction in which a priest exercises office is in the Parish to which he is called; likewise the bishop in the Diocese to which he is elected; but neither the baptized member of the Church, nor those ordained to any office of the sacred ministry, should overlook their primary obligation as members of the Church of Christ.

Whatever Christians may do in other communions, ours is an Episcopal Church. Personally I do not believe in the autocratic powers of bishops, yet I realize that many good arguments might be advanced for such constitutional changes as would give a bishop greater powers in the appointment of rectors. Where the relation of the bishop to his clergy and people is ideal, and his understanding of the need in each individual case would lead him to eliminate personal considerations and to think solely of the interests of the particular congregation, such a change might be beneficial. But bishops are not infallible, and in my opinion such a change would establish a very dangerous precedent which would not work in practice.

In many matters the bishop occupies a different position from any other person in the Diocese. The clergyman represents his Parish, but the bishop is the representative officer of the whole Diocese; he is, however, more than a diocesan officer; he has a ministerial character inherent in his office which relates him to the whole Church. In addition to the local Parishes, with their special interests, there are large diocesan interests, and every communicant of the Church, no matter to what Parish he may belong temporarily, has privileges and duties relating not merely to the work in his own Parish, but also to the work in the whole Diocese, and of the whole Church. The rector has a special relation to the members of his congregation, but the bishop, by virtue of his office, has also a relation to every baptized person within his Diocese.

We cannot do our best work in a Diocese unless there is a hearty and loyal co-operation between the bishop, the clergy, and the laity. We have achieved this to an unusual degree in Pennsylvania. The spirit in which the clergy have worked for the past few years has been magnificent. No forward step has been taken during my administration without a full and frank conference with the clergy, and under the benefit of their counsel and advice. This will be my aim as long as I am Bishop of the Diocese, because I believe that we cannot get the best co-operation without such counsel together. It has also been true of the laymen, as far as our past organization provided for it; I trust that it will be increasingly so since the formation of our Associated Vestries. At the same time, I hope that whatever individual opinions a clergyman or layman may have, when we do decide to go forward with practical unanimity on any great project, every member of the Church will loyally support our program. There is no room for pure "parochialism" in the Episcopal Church, there is no room for the spirit of "diocesanisms; there must be a co-ordination, and a full realization of the duty of every member of the Church, not merely to his Parish, but also to his Diocese, and to the whole Church. I am very frank to say that in some of our decisions in the General Convention I have been in the minority, but when action is taken we must accept the will of the majority. This is just as true in a Diocese, and I hope the day is not far distant when the spirit of congregationalism in this Diocese will forever disappear.

Our clergy have realized that a discouraging element in the whole situation is that when we hold conferences about important matters some of the clergy are not present; likewise the Associated Vestries realize that many laymen are absent from the meetings to which they have been invited. These absentees cannot, therefore, give us the benefit of their criticisms and their advice. In future we trust that in important matters relating to the welfare of the Church every clergyman and every delegate or vestryman will feel that it is his duty to be present; but if circumstances prevent his attendance, we will expect him, as a loyal son of the Church, to abide by the counsel and the decisions of those who have given prayerful and careful consideration to the subject.

Vestry System Open Question

While I am speaking on this subject, I might say that it has become an open question in the Church whether the vestry system is the best for the present day and for the needs of the Church. In this old Diocese, where the system had its birth, we are by tradition its warm defenders. But on the other hand, very many feel that it may have become too largely a self-perpetuating system. They believe it is no longer representative; and, if I were asked to place my finger on its most signal failure, I would say that it is in this very respect. This is a condition which an organization such as the Associated Vestries can remedy. Even though our vestrymen are not elected by representative gatherings of the people (excepting in a few Parishes), yet I think we may safely say that in almost every instance they do give faithful attention to the affairs of the local congregation. But we talk a great deal about the Parish being the unit in the Diocese, and it is a fair question to ask whether as representatives of that unit our vestries are fulfilling their obligations to the Diocese.

I have pointed out one way in which some of them fall short. When meetings are called for the discussion of important matters there is room for differences of opinion, but some vestrymen overlook the fact that they have a distinct responsibility to the Diocese as well as to the local congregation, that they are representatives of that congregation and it is therefore their duty to be informed about the work of the Diocese when opportunity is so given, and to give their advice and counsel in regard to obligations and responsibilities which by the Canons of the Church they are bound to consider. There are vestrymen of our Diocese who have fully realized this condition, and over a year ago they organized the Associated Vestries to remedy it. The meetings held have been very helpful and interesting, and we earnestly request every vestryman in the Diocese to become a member of the Association and to give his assistance toward the development of a more widespread interest in the affairs of the Diocese and of the National Church.

The vestrymen who organized this Association believe that a fuller recognition of the responsibility of each vestryman to the Diocese and to the general Church will be helpful in giving him a larger vision of the Church's need and of the Church's work, and also bring to him a more spiritual conception of his office.

Finally, my brethren, that is what we all need—a more spiritual conception of our opportunities for service in the Parish, in the Diocese, and in the Missionary Work of the Church, at home and abroad. May God in all these things lead us to fulfil His purpose and to do His will.

MEMORIAL NOTICES

Of Bishops of This Church

WILLIAM FORD NICHOLS, Second Bishop of California, one of the most distinguished and beloved leaders of our Church, died on June 5, 1924, aged seventy-five years. He was born in Lloyd, New York, on June 9, 1849, graduating from Trinity College and the Berkeley Divinity School, being made Deacon in 1873 and ordained to the Priesthood in 1874 by the Right Reverend John Williams, Bishop of Connecticut. His first charges were in Middletown, West Hartford and Newington, during which period he was also Secretary to the Bishop. From 1877 to 1887 he was Rector of Christ Church, Hartford, as well as Professor of Church History at the Divinity School for three years. He then accepted the Rectorship of Saint James' Church, Philadelphia, where he remained until his consecration as Assistant Bishop of California on June 24, 1890, becoming Diocesan in 1893 on the death of Bishop Kip. In 1888 he declined an election as Assistant Bishop of Ohio. The Bishop carried his many gifts with him to the Pacific Coast.

In 1893, he founded the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, at San Mateo, and became its first dean.

During his Episcopate the Diocese was divided twice, in 1895 when the Diocese of Los Angeles was created, and again in 1911 when the eastern portion was set off as the Missionary District of San Joaquin. He was one of the senior Bishops of the Church in the United States, being sixth in order of consecration at the time of his death.

GEORGE YEMENS BLISS, Bishop Coadjutor of Vermont, died in Burlington on July 10, 1924, in the sixtieth year of his age. He was born at Shelburne, Vermont, on March 12, 1864, graduating from the University of Vermont in 1889 and from the General Theological Seminary in 1892. He was made Deacon the same year by Bishop Bissell and ordained the year following by Bishop Neely. In 1892 he became Curate of S. Paul's Church, Burlington, being elected Rector in 1899. He was also Priest-in-charge of Trinity Mission, Winoski, from 1892 to 1896. In 1915 he was elected Bishop Coadjutor, being consecrated on April 21st by Bishops Hall, Codman and Parker. His record is unique in that all his life and virtually all his ministry was passed not only in one Diocese, but also in a single Parish.

JAMES STEPTOE JOHNSTON, Retired Bishop of Western Texas, died in San Antonio on Tuesday, November 4, 1924, aged seventy-nine years, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy suffered on the Sunday previous. He was born in Church Hill, Mississippi, on June 9, 1845. Entering the University of Virginia in 1860, he enlisted in the Confederate Army on the outbreak of the Civil War the year following, rising to the rank of Lieutenant. When peace was declared he started to read law, but finally decided to study for Holy Orders, being made Deacon in 1869 and ordained in 1871 by Bishop Green. His Parishes were: 1869, S. James Church, Port Gibson, Mississippi; 1876, Church of the Ascension, Mount Sterling, Kentucky; 1880, Trinity Church, Mobile, Alabama, serving as Delegate to the General Convention in 1883 and in 1886. In 1887 he was elected second Missionary Bishop of Western Texas and consecrated on the Feast of the Epiphany in 1888 by Bishops Wilmer, Dudley and Tuttle. When Western Texas became a Diocese in 1904, he was elected unanimously as the first Bishop and continued to serve until failing health necessitated his resignation in 1916; during the last two years of his Episcopate he was assisted by Bishop Capers as his Coadjutor. Essentially "a man of peace" his every effort was directed at all times toward the abolishment of strife and warfare.

JOHN HAZEN WHITE, First Bishop of Northern Indiana, died at Seabreeze, Florida, on March 16, 1925, aged seventy-six years. He was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on March 10, 1849, graduating from Kenyon College in 1872, from Trinity College in 1878 and from Berkeley Divinity School in 1875, being made Deacon the same year and ordained to the Priesthood in 1876 by the Right Reverend John Williams, Bishop of Connecticut. His first work was as Curate of S. Andrew's Church, Meriden, which he left in 1877 to become Vice-Rector of S. Margaret's School, Waterbury, and Curate of S. John's Church. In 1879 he became Rector of Grace Church, Saybrook, Connecticut; in 1881 of Christ Church, Joliet, Illinois; in 1889 of the Church of S. John the Evangelist, St. Paul, Minnesota. He was elected Warden of Seabury Divinity School in 1891, where he remained for four years. He was consecrated Bishop of Indiana on May 1, 1895, by Bishops Tuttle, McLaren and Leonard, becoming Bishop of Northern Indiana when the Diocese was divided in 1899. In later years his health declined rapidly; but he remained steadfastly at work, although nearly blind, suffering a stroke of apoplexy the night before he passed away.

Of Priests of This Diocese

H. RICHARD HARRIS, Rector of Grace Church, Philadelphia, died at the American Hospital in Paris, France, on July 30, 1924, in the seventy-fourth year of his age. Born in New York City and educated for the ministry of the Congregational Church, he worked for a time with the late Henry Ward Beecher, but later decided to study for Holy Orders. He was made Deacon in 1881 and ordained the year following by Bishop Littlejohn. For three years he was Rector of Calvary Church, Brooklyn, and from 1885 until 1895 of S. George's Church in the same city. In the latter year he accepted a call to Grace Church, located at that time at Twelfth and Cherry Streets, removed later to its present site at Forty-first Street and Leidy Avenue, serving thus for twenty-nine years. In 1890 he was Lecturer in the Theological School at Cambridge and subsequently declined a call to the Chair of Pastoral Theology in that Seminary. The body was brought to New York in September and interment was made at Westbury, Long Island.

ALFRED LANGDON ELWYN, a retired Deacon of the Diocese, died in New York City on August 9, 1924, in the ninety-second year of his age. He was born in Philadelphia on December 24, 1832, graduating from the University of Pennsylvania in 1852 and from the Theological Seminary at Alexandria, Virginia, four years later, when he was made Deacon by Bishop Alonzo Potter. Nearly the whole of his ministry was devoted to the Italian Mission here. In 1906 he retired from active work, owing to advanced age. At the time of his death he was senior in Ordination and Canonical Residence among the Clergy of the Diocese.

GEORGE GILBERT MATCHETT, Chaplain of the Galilee Mission, died at the Episcopal Hospital on August 10, 1924, in the sixty-first year of his age. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, on January 27, 1864, coming to this country when he was twenty years old. His early education was in the Guild of S. John Baptist School and in the University of Dublin. After a business career he became Lay Reader at S. Asaph's Church, Bala, and was made Deacon in 1901 by Bishop Coleman. Twenty years later he was ordained by Bishop Rhinelander under the Canon for Older Men, as set forth by the General Convention of 1919. Virtually all of his ministry was spent in helping his brother Clergy as occasion demanded. He became Chaplain of Galilee Mission in 1923.

THOMAS MANLEY SHARPE, a Priest of this Diocese, died in the Episcopal Hospital on September 10, 1924, aged sixty-three years. He was born in London on June 28, 1861, coming to this country as a boy and going back to England for his education. Returning to America, he spent a year in Canada and undertook a business venture in New York City in 1892. Three years later he was made Deacon and ordained Priest in 1896 by Bishop Henry C. Potter, becoming Missionary in the Bronx. He served also at various Churches in New York City, among them Trinity; S. Agnes' Chapel; Church of the Heavenly Rest; and Grace Church, where he was Vicar. Subsequently he went to Christ Church, Springfield, Illinois; S. Luke's Church, Queen Anne, Maryland; S. Stephen's Church, Woodlawn, New York, and ministered for a time in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. In 1918 he came to Philadelphia, working at Hog Island; the year following he was Priest-in-Charge of S. Titus' Mission, Elmwood, where he remained until the fall of 1920, when he accepted work as Assistant Minister at the Church of the Saviour.

ROBERT ALEXANDER EDWARDS, Rector of the Church of The Holy Innocents, Tacony, died at the University Hospital on October 18, 1924, in the eighty-third year of his age. Born February 12, 1842, in Lancashire, England, he was graduated from the Philadelphia Divinity School in 1866, made Deacon by Bishop Stevens in 1865 and ordained by Bishop Lee the next year. His whole ministry was passed in this Diocese, being the next to oldest Priest in the point of Canonical Residence at the time of his death and the oldest in active work. His various charges were 1866 at Grace Church, Mt. Airy; in 1874 at Holy Trinity Memorial Chapel; in 1879 at S. Matthias' Church, where he remained until 1896, when he went abroad for several years; and from 1901 until his death at the Church of The Holy Innocents.

CHARLES ORVIS DANTZER, a retired Priest of the Diocese, died at the Episcopal Hospital on October 25, 1924, in the sixty-first year of his age. He was born in Buffalo, New York, on September 19, 1864, and received his early education at Gallaudet College in Washington, D. C., where he graduated in 1886. Originally a member of the Roman Church, he was prepared privately for Holy Orders by the Faculty of S. Andrew's Divinity School, being made Deacon on March 10, 1892, and ordained in June, 1895. From 1890 to 1904 he was Missionary to the Deaf in Central New York, but came to this Diocese in the latter year as Priest-in-Charge of All Souls' Mission to the Deaf. After a fruitful ministry he retired in June, 1923, owing to ill health.

GEORGE STUART FULLERTON, a Non-Parochial Priest of this Diocese, died at his home in Poughkeepsie, New York, on March 23, 1925, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. He was born on August 18, 1859, at Fatehgarh, India, where his parents were engaged in missionary work. Brought up in the Presbyterian Church, he entered the University of Pennsylvania in 1875, graduating with the highest honors four years later, taking a prize in philosophy and serving as Class Poet. For a few months he did post-graduate work at Princeton University, but on account of his health was forced to go to Cuba. Returning, he entered Yale University, receiving his divinity degree in 1883. Returning to the University of Pennsylvania, he became Instructor in Philosophy, Professor in 1887 and Dean of the Department in 1889. He was Dean of the College from 1894 to 1896 and Vice-Provost from 1894 to 1898. During this time he decided to study for Holy Orders, being prepared privately, made Deacon in 1887 and ordained to the Priesthood in 1888. From 1904 to 1917 he was Professor of Philosophy at Columbia University, New York City, and for the last few years at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie. In 1914 he was appointed Exchange Professor at Vienna and in other Austrian Universities, serving also as Honorary Professor at Vienna by appointment of the late Emperor Francis Joseph. Unable to leave at the outbreak of the War, he was placed in a German Internment Camp, which greatly aggravated his never robust health and ultimately resulted in his death. His whole Ministry was confined to teaching work, so that he never had a distinctly Parochial connection.

THOMAS ALLEN TIDBALL, a retired Priest of this Diocese, died at Sewanee, Tennessee, on March 28, 1925, in the seventy-eighth year of his age. He was born in Winchester, Virginia, in 1847, obtaining his early education at Charlestown Academy, West Virginia, and reading law from 1865 to 1867. Deciding to study for Holy Orders, he was graduated from the Theological School at Alexandria in 1871, in which year he was made Deacon and ordained Priest by Bishop Johns in 1872. His first work was at Trinity Church, Portsmouth, Virginia, where he remained until 1878, when he accepted the Rectorship of Christ Church, Lexington, Kentucky. In 1885 he became Rector of S. Paul's Church, Camden, New Jersey, coming into this Diocese in 1893 as Rector of the Church of the Epiphany at Fifteenth and Chestnut Streets. When this Parish was combined with S. Luke's Church in 1898, he was elected Rector, a position which he continued to hold until his resignation in 1903. The following year he became Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity at the University of the South and Professor Emeritus when advancing years compelled his retirement from active work. In 1892 he was elected by the General Convention as Missionary Bishop of Shanghai and Tokyo, but was unable to accept owing to climatic conditions. He was a member of the Standing Committee of the Diocese in 1900.

Of Deputies to the last Convention:

MORRIS EARLE, of the Church of the Holy Trinity, died suddenly on July 29th, 1924, aged sixty-five years. Born in Philadelphia, he was active in Parish affairs for many years, being Rector's Warden at the time of his death. He was a Deputy to the General Convention in 1919 and in 1922, and was particularly active in the compilation of the Hymnal in 1916, being Secretary of the Commission. In Diocesan affairs he was a tireless worker, especially after his retirement from business, serving as a member of the Executive Council and several of its Departments. He was also Treasurer of the Convocation of South Philadelphia, a prominent member of the Church Club and of the Board of Trustees of the Divinity School. He was a member of the Standing Committee in 1913.

HAROLD HAMERTON, of S. Alban's Church, Olney, died August 2, 1924. A Deputy to this Convention for many years, he had served as a Vestryman since 1901, being Accounting Warden from 1917.

JOHN CADWALADER, of S. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, died on March 11, 1925, in his eighty-second year. Born in Philadelphia, he was a Vestryman for many years, and was elected a Deputy to this Convention in 1885, being thus in all probability the oldest member. Since 1870 he has been active on the Commission for Work among the Blind and has occupied many other places of Diocesan responsibility.

WILSON CATHERWOOD, of the Church of S. James the Less, Falls of the Schuylkill, died on March 21, 1925, aged sixty-three years. A Vestryman of his Parish since 1909, he was elected a Deputy to the Convention in 1920.

A Vestryman since 1891, he served as a Deputy for several years, and was a member of many Diocesan Committees. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Divinity School and much interested in its welfare. He was better known perhaps as a Vestryman of S. Mary's Church, Wayne, where he served from the incorporation of that Parish until 1921, when he retired under rotation in office.

JUSTICE WARNER HUTCHINS, of the Church of S. Jude and The Nativity, died on February 4, 1925, in his seventy-sixth year. Born in the neighborhood of the Nativity, he was active there all his lifetime, serving as a Vestryman for thirty years and being very instrumental in bringing about its union with S. Jude's Church.

ALLEN EVANS, of S. Mary's Church, Ardmore, died on February 28, 1925, in his seventy-seventh year. Originally a member of the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, he was instrumental in starting the Mission at Ardmore and served as Accounting Warden for thirty-five years, being elected a Deputy to the Convention in 1892. He was always active in Diocesan matters, serving on many Boards, and was in charge of the remodeling of the Church House when this was moved to its present location.

DANIEL HENRY WILLIAMS, of All Saints' Church, Lower Dublin, died on March 13, 1925. He was a member of the Vestry for twenty-eight years.

REMARKS

The present Vicar assumed charge March 1, 1924. Ground was broken for the new Chapel and Parish House April 5, 1924. The corner stone was laid by the Bishop of the Diocese, June 24, 1924. The Parish House was opened with a Hallowe'en Party November 1, 1924. The first service was held in the Chapel on the morning of Thanksgiving Day, November 27, 1924. The last service was held in the old Trinity Chapel on the afternoon of Sunday, November 23, 1924, after which it was turned over to the Pilgrim Evangelical Lutheran Congregation which purchased it. With this change the old organization of Trinity Chapel went out of existence, and the new Chapel became S. Aidan's.

ate relief from all business burdens and responsibilities. We are sure that we give expression to the feeling of all the people of our Diocese when we here record our sincere appreciation of Mr. Fisher's long, faithful and efficient services in connection with the Christmas Fund, believing as we do, that its present flourishing condition is largely due to his wise and untiring efforts and to his practical interest in the welfare of our clergy and of the widows and orphans of our deceased clergy. We realize that few men of this Diocese have given more time and thought to its activities and upbuilding than Mr. Fisher, and we have great sympathy with him in his illness and with his family in their distress. And it is the wish of the Standing Committee that these expressions of our sentiments, appreciation and sympathy be recorded in the Minutes of our proceedings."

APPENDIX F

Report of the Treasurer of the Diocese

Thomas S. Gates, Treasurer, in account with the Diocese of Pennsylvania

W. P. Barba, Assistant Treasurer

During the year 1924 the financing work of the Diocese was carried on along the usual lines covering the receipts, the care and disbursements of the monies from the several funds in the custody of the Treasurer and the several reports concerning these funds are appended. There were also certain special funds which came through the Executive office of the Diocese, reports of which will be referred to.

The work of the office of the Treasurer was considerably increased by the amount of work necessary to carry on the functions of the Clergy Pension Fund premium payments and after the experience of this year, the office of the Treasurer desires to record its appreciation of the great amount of unselfish work which was carried on prior to the assumption of this duty by the office through the devoted efforts of Mr. J. J. Collier and the Department of Clerical Pensions.

During the year the Executive Council accepted the quota of the National Council applicable to Pennsylvania's proportion of the maintenance budget of the National Council in the sum of $316,920. At the Council meeting of February, 1924, much discussion was had on the subject, due to the forecast of the Treasurer of the sums expected to be received as income during the year 1924 and by resolution of the Council, the National Treasurer was informed that this Diocese would do all in its power to send him as a part of the $316,920 the sum of $250,000 from the divisible funds received. The amount remitted was $195,071.24. This compares with a like amount sent in 1923 of $239,180.03. Both of these sums include monies received on account of deficiency appeals for 1924 of $7,705.75 and for 1923, $61,175.29, leaving sums from regular receipts applicable to this payment in 1923 of $178,004.74 and in 1924, $187,365.49, or an increase (excluding Special Appeals for 1924) over 1923 of $9,360.75. That there has been an increase is gratifying; that the increase leaves the total sum sent so far below our allotment is still a matter of great regret to all in this Diocese and it is hoped that 1925 will see a better result for the next report.

WITHIN THE DIOCESE

Within the Diocese for 1924 results were notably better than for 1923. Whereas in 1924 we entered the year with a deficit which grew to large proportion during the year, causing us at one time to borrow as much as $28,000, continual presentation of this situation to the Diocese through its proper channels, originating with the Executive Council, resulted in such increased givings that we were able to pay all our commitments for 1924 and wind up the year with a book balance of approximately $11,000. Of this sum the Council directed that $6,000 be awarded to the Church Farm School to cover our provisional commitment to them in this sum, made early in 1924, and applying the remainder to the amortization of the deficit with which we entered 1924 to the extent of the remaining sum.

The officers of the Treasury go forward into 1925 with great confidence that they will produce a report for next year even superior to the progress shown in this report and begs the coöperation of all within the Diocese to effectuate this purpose.

THOMAS S. GATES,
Treasurer.

W. P. BARBA,
Assistant Treasurer.

Report of the Executive Council

This report will recite briefly the more important results of the year, leaving details to be found in the reports of the different Departments.

The Council calls the attention of the Convention with regret to the death of Mr. James F. Fahnestock, one of its original members, and also of Mr. Morris Earle, who had been a member of the Council from its beginning until the time of his death. Appropriate resolutions were passed by the Council.

At the 1924 Convention a Canon was adopted enforcing the principle of rotation in office on the part of members of the Executive Council; in accordance with the action of the Convention, lots were drawn by the members of the Council who have served for three consecutive years, including the year beginning May, 1924, with the following result:

Ineligible for election in 1925

Rev. L. N. Caley, D.D.,
Rev. F. W. Tomkins, D.D.,
Fev. Frank L. Vernon, D.D.,
Rev. F. F. Seymour,
Mr. George B. Hawkes,
Mr. Wm. J. Dickson,
Mr. E. H. Bonsall.

Ineligible for election in 1926

Rev. P. R. Stockman,
Rev. C. E. Grammer, D.D.,

DEPARTMENT OF MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

The building of the Rectory at Drexel Hill referred to in the last annual report has now been completed.

The Council has authorized the purchase of a lot and the erection of the first story of a building for a mission at Springfield; this is to cost $11,000, towards which the Council has promised in cash or mortgage to be responsible for one-half or $5,500.

The Council has also authorized the exchange of the Rectory at Collingdale and the purchase in its place of a property adjoining the Church, with the understanding that the Collingdale Mission assume the burden of the additional interest charge.

The Council also authorized the purchase of the property at Kennett Square adjoining the Church building as a Rectory, for the price of $7,500, the understanding being that the congregation will assume the interest on a mortgage of $2,500.

The Council also has agreed that the Collingdale Mission shall receive $10,000 in cash from the Diocese towards the erection of its new building and that the Diocese will assume a partial responsibility with respect to the interest on a mortgage of $10,000.

The Council also authorized the exchange of the present property of the Mission of St. Mary's, Chester, for a new property at the corner of Seventh and Edward Streets, Chester.

* Since deceased.

The Council also authorized an additional mortgage of $3,000 on the Morrisville Community House in order to enable the construction of a suitable heating plant.

Finally, it authorized the assumption of a mortgage for $15,000 for which it should be responsible, on the House of Prayer; this is especially significant as it is perhaps the first case in the history of the Diocese in which the Diocese has in terms extended financial assistance to an incorporated parish. The Council felt unanimously that just as in the last few years it has been deemed wise for the Diocese to extend assistance much more generously to parishes in connection with the salaries of their clergy, so also in a proper case, where a parish needs new buildings and is totally unable itself to secure them, the Diocese should loan its aid in securing the new buildings just as it would in the case of a mission.

In spite, therefore, of the fact that there was no Diocesan surplus available for Extension work, the Council has been able by guaranteeing mortgages and through the co-operation of the congregations affected to do a not inconsiderable amount of Forward work in the ways above indicated. No large steps can be taken, however, in this direction until the survey is made and the effort made to secure a sum sufficient to put our Diocesan work upon a more satisfactory basis.

DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

This Department urged very vigorously during the year an appropriation to enable the securing of the services of an Executive Secretary; the Department was much disappointed when the Council after a vigorous argument declined to authorize the appropriation. The refusal was based chiefly on lack of funds and in view of the better situation of the Diocese financially it is earnestly to be hoped that the appropriation may be allowed in the near future.

THE DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL SERVICE AND INSTITUTIONS

The investigation of the Institutions by Miss Carpenter mentioned in the last annual report unfortunately was interrupted by the serious illness of Miss Carpenter who was obliged to resign her connection with the Department of the National Council. Miss Coe, who has recently been appointed by the Department of the National Council to take the place of Miss Carpenter, has arranged to resume the work where Miss Carpenter left off, and since the end of February, has been proceeding with the work. The reports made by Miss Carpenter had been exceedingly useful both to the Diocese and to the Institutions affected, and it is hoped that Miss Coe's work will be equally satisfactory.

The various Committees of the Department have been proceeding with the work to which they are assigned. The Department was represented at a National Conference of Social Service Workers at Toronto, also at a Conference at Madison, Wis., on rural work, the representatives of the latter Conference being the Rev. Dr. Prevost, who made an elaborate report as to the recommendations of the Conference.

The Department is trying to keep in touch with the various activities in the Diocese. A pleasant and successful Luncheon was extended to the University of Pennsylvania Social Service Workers at the Church House on February 28th, thus giving members of the Department an opportunity to hear accounts from these young people of the work that they are doing, and it also furnished to these young Church men and women an opportunity of forming an acquaintance with the authorities of the Diocese.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

From the financial point of view the results of the year 1924 were very significant. In the Spring of the year a drive in which the Council had no direct part was made on behalf of the Philadelphia Divinity School, realizing—including some special contributions—an aggregate of a million dollars. Our appeal for the Japan Reconstruction Fund was postponed until October, when a similar and very effective drive took place. Approximately $230,000 was secured for the purpose out of a goal of $250,000, being probably in excess of the full share for this Diocese of the $2,500,000 estimated by the National Council to be required for the purpose of reconstruction in Japan. The interesting fact is that despite the fact that over $1,225,000 was raised or pledged in the Diocese during the year for objects not on the Budget of either the General Church or the Diocese and which, therefore, did not count upon the quotas of the different parishes, the sums contributed for Missions applying on the quota amounted to $409,584.33, as against $471,084.04 in 1923. This difference of $61,499.71 was almost entirely accounted for by the fact that in 1923 there was a special appeal for Missions at the end of the year which netted $61,175.29, whereas (owing to the large drives above referred to) there was no such general appeal at the end of the year 1924, only $7,705.75 being secured in this way.

Even more significant is the fact that the normal divisible money, i. e., the money that is received from various sources and divided between the Diocese and the National Church increased from $178,004.74 in 1923 to $187,365.49 in 1924. These figures seem to justify two important conclusions. The first is that there are large resources in our Diocese available for Church purposes which are not being tapped by our present methods; this seems to be convincingly shown by the fact that the regular receipts remain approximately the same, despite the fact that about $1,200,000 was raised or pledged for special purposes. The second deduction is equally striking. As pointed out in last year's report, the Quota Committee has been endeavoring for several years to get the various parishes to accept if not all, at least as large a part as possible of the mathematical shares or quotas due by the different parishes for Missions in and out of the Diocese. The resulting figures (called "Expectations") in 1924 aggregated $408,550 as against quotas of $509,895. As against Expectations of $408,550 the Diocese received contributions of $390,984.25 or about 96 per cent. The significance of this fact as a forward step in Diocesan financing is obvious. It means that whereas many of the parishes have for years past looked upon their quotas as excessive and impossible of realization, yet when they have accepted a quota either in whole or in part and it has become technically an expectation, there is a real sense of responsibility for realizing this figure, and the Diocese and the National Church can count on its being at least approximately realized each year. The Council feels so well satisfied with this that they have taken up the matter with the National Council, and are urging on it also that propriety of asking each Diocese to accept as an Expectation either the whole or such part of its mathematical quota as it expects to be able to contribute; the Council feels that the adoption of this principle of Expectations in the affairs of the National Church may be just as beneficial to the finances of the General Church as it has proved during the past year to the finances of the Diocese.

Of course, this does not mean that the goal has been realized. Far from it. The results achieved during the year 1924 in the Diocese itself were satisfactory; as against a deficit of $6,253.59 in 1923 there was a surplus of $5,242.93 in 1924, leaving a net deficit at the beginning of the year 1925 in the Diocese of only $1,010.66. The contributions to the National Council were by no means so satisfactory. As against $308,-115.80 from all sources in 1923 the National Council received from the Diocese in 1924 $213,180.79 or about $95,000 less; so far as the distinctly quota items were concerned the Diocese contributed to the National Council $195,071.24 in 1924 as against $239,180.03 in 1923, a decrease of $44,108.79 (which decrease was of course more than accounted for by the fact that the Special Appeal realized $61,175.29 in 1923 as against $7,706.75 in 1924). It is true that (applying to the Diocese the same principles of Expectations above explained), the Council had already notified the National Council that it could not expect more than $250,000 from the Diocese during the year 1924, but, as above pointed out, it fell short even of this by almost $53,000. Again, while on current expenditure the Diocese had a balance of $5,200 in 1924, as shown above, yet the Diocese did not have the money which it ought to have for regular development and growth each year. It is clear that there ought to be raised from the Diocese at least $100,000 more each year, which if equitably distributed between the National Council and the Diocese, would enable the Diocese to contribute to the National Council the $250,000 which it at present feels is the limit of its ability, and leave a fair surplus besides for needed Church extension in the Diocese. With this end in view the Quota Committee has asked the different parishes and missions to assume an aggregate of $50,000 more as their Expectations in 1925 than in 1924; replies to these requests have been fairly satisfactory, and it is believed that a system has been devised by which with care and patience the contributions should grow steadily, if not rapidly. Perhaps it should be added that although authorized by the last Diocesan Convention to do so, the Council has not felt that it ought to assign any separate figures to the different parishes for Forward work either in or out of the Diocese; it seems almost absurd to do so until such time as the Diocese shall have met its share of the Budget of the General Church and the feeling in the Council is quite clear upon this point.

In accordance with the authority conferred upon it by the Diocesan Convention the Council in the Fall of 1924 completed a Budget for the year 1925. The changes from the preceding year were not numerous. Perhaps the most important addition was an allowance for a Special Missionary as Assistant to the Bishop, and on the other hand quite an important step was taken when it was decided to reduce the gross appropriation for Foreign work by the sum of $2,000; this reduction was subsequently distributed by the Department of Missions among different fields of Foreign work. Also an additional appropriation of $6,000 to the Church Farm School was included.

This report would be inadequate if attention were not called to the fact that the Council has devoted a larger part of its sessions during the year to a consideration of the work of the National Church and the responsibility of the Diocese for such work. At several meetings of the Council matters of interest along these lines have been discussed. The report of the Bishop of Maryland to the Province of Washington was the subject of discussion at one meeting, and the report of the Executive Secretary as to his attendance at a Conference of Executive Secretaries from over the country near Chicago early in January was the subject of further discussion. It is believed that the Council is more and more inclined to devote its sessions to the broader interests of the National Council and the relation of the Diocese to the work of the National Council. Indeed, many members of the Council feel that a policy is being evolved in the Diocese which is or should be of value to the National Council, and it is possible that the Diocesan Convention of 1925 may be asked to make definite recommendations to its delegates to the General Convention at New Orleans in October.

REYNOLDS D. BROWN,
Executive Secretary.

Executive Office,

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

To the Executive Council:

Diocesan Missions includes the missionary work carried on in the six Convocations, in which there are thirty-eight Missions ministered to by twenty-nine missionaries; and the Racial work among the Jews, the Italians, the Poles, the Hungarians, the French, and the Colored.

The Department of Missions is convinced that there is no Department in the life and work of the Diocese that is so important to the welfare of the Diocese as that of Diocesan Missions, because of the opportunities for development which lie before it in every direction, and because the growth of the Diocese depends very largely upon the amount of missionary work which it is enabled to accomplish.

That the sphere of Diocesan Missions is quite extensive is illustrated by the facts that the County of Bucks in the Convocation of Germantown is larger than the Diocese of Rhode Island, and that the Convocation of North Philadelphia has a population of over three-quarters of a million, which is larger than that of twenty Dioceses and fifteen Missionary Districts in the United States.

As the trend of population is towards the suburbs we must follow that movement, and establish Missions in the rapidly growing sections, which in all probability will shortly develop into Parishes. And we must do this, not only that the Diocese may be strong, but also that the Diocese may be able to contribute liberally to the support of the various agencies carried on by the National Council. For as the strength of the National Church depends upon the strength of the Dioceses of which it is composed, so the strength of a Diocese depends upon the strength of the Parishes of which it is composed. The only hope for the future of this Diocese is to develop more strong Parishes. So that since many in the City of Philadelphia are losing their strength on account of the encroachment of business upon residential districts, the increase of the foreign population and of the colored race, we must establish and strengthen those in the suburban and rural sections of our Diocese.

The Report of last year began by saying, "The Department of Missions has one supreme need, and that is an adequate fund from which it can purchase sites for new Missions, assist in erecting suitable buildings for such Missions, and strengthen existing Missions by providing them either with a church or parish building." That supreme need still exists: but the Bishop and his Missionary Council are making a very careful and thorough survey of the Diocese to ascertain how much is needed to put the Church's extension work on a sound and hopeful footing for the next five years.

AIDING NEEDY PARISHES

In past years the Department of Missions limited the help it gave to Missions; but of late years it has realized that there are some Parishes in the older parts of the city, especially where the growth is now very rapid, that need assistance to put them on their feet, and enable them to meet the increasing opportunities for enlarged service; and this has been granted. We are confident that this is a wise policy which will have to be continued, though with considerable care.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED

During the past year the Mission Chapel at Glenside, under the control of St. Peter's, Weldon, has been completed and dedicated; the first story of St. Gabriel's Mission, Feltonville, on the Roosevelt Boulevard, and of St. Barnabas' Mission, Germantown, have been completed, and are now being used.

WORK AMONG THE FOREIGN-BORN

Mission work in foreign languages is under the more immediate supervision of the Rev. Elliot White, Archdeacon of Work among the Foreign-born. There are six stations.

Progress at the Italian Church of L'Emmanuello has been considerably hindered by the illness and later bereavement of the Priest in Charge. The work is carried on among the extremely poor, and the location is undesirable, Christian Street near Eleventh. There are 225 communicants. Besides the regular services there is an excellent Girls' Friendly Society, Boys' Guild and Mothers' Meeting.

The Italian Chapel of St. Mary of The Annunciation, on Memphis Street north of Allegheny Avenue, carries on a similar work. The Ladies' League, now in its thirty-fifth year, and the Italian Committee of the Woman's Auxiliary, assist in these two Missions.

It has been thought best to enlarge the activities of the Woman worker for Italians by making her services available for any Parishes desiring her help, under the direction of the Rector. She has classes in a number of places, and through her visits to the parents has succeeded in bringing a number of Italian families into touch with the Church.

The Polish Mission of the Advent continues quietly its ministrations in the Church of that name on York Avenue near Buttonwood Street. The Mission of The Holy Redeemer, also Polish, still avails itself of the hospitality of St. George's, Richmond; but a Church of its own is greatly needed. Its parochial day school numbers about 115 pupils. At the beginning of the second school semester, eight pupils graduated into the high school without difficulty, thus affording room for many new comers. The third Polish Mission, St. Mary's, is located at Manayunk, being housed in St. Timothy's and St. David's. This mission is also in need of a Church.

Archdeacon White has been for the greater part of the year in charge of St. John's House, Northern Liberties. While this is technically of a social service character, it is also missionary. Services are held in the Church on Sunday afternoons; and the Diocesan Board of Religious Education is establishing a model Church School, the Divinity School supplying a superintendent. Relations between the Roumanian congregation to whom the use of the Church has been granted for part of Sunday, continue to be most cordial and helpful each to the other.

The visit of the Most Reverend Mar Timotheus, Metropolitan of the ancient Assyrian or so-called "Nestorian" Church, brought up the question of starting mission work among Orientals, Turks and Persians, who belong to this denomination. It has been the steadfast policy of our Church not to attempt to proselyte among these orthodox national churches; but we have been able, and hope in the future to be more frequently able, to assist the native clergy in the prosecution of their ministry.

WORK AMONG THE COLORED RACE

It is computed that there are over two hundred and five thousand colored people in the Diocese; and to conduct our share of the work to evangelize and educate this large number, we have three Parishes, three Chapels connected with white Churches, the Chapel of the St. Michael and All Angels Home for Colored Cripples, and seven Diocesan Missions, making in all fourteen places of worship for the colored race, or one for every fifteen thousand of them, with 2,676 communicants, or one to every 77 of the colored population.

THE CHURCH EXTENSION FUND

In 1924 the subscribers to the Church Extension Fund contributed through the three Calls for that year a total of $10,982.75, to be devoted to the following objects designated by the Bishop and approved by the Department of Missions and Executive Council:

January Call: Purchase of a site for the new Mission of the Ascension at West Chester, the first organized work among colored people in that place to be established by the Church.

April Call: Towards construction of a Parish House for Trinity Mission, Collingdale, Delaware County, to replace the existing inadequate frame structure, the seating capacity of which is limited to 75.

October Call: Towards construction of a Parish Building for the House of Prayer, Limekiln Pike and Church Lane, in the northeast section of Philadelphia, to meet immediate pressing needs and to meet future needs occasioned by large increase in home building operations.

CONVOCATION OF CHESTER

THE DEAN'S REPORT

The constant flow of the residents of Philadelphia into the beautiful suburban sections of Delaware and Chester Counties calls for the formation of new Missions to meet the religious needs. Each of these Missions we hope will very shortly develop into a strong self-sustaining Parish and itself beget children.

Our country work, i. e., the work located in the farming district of Chester County, while attracting wide attention on account of its effectiveness and far reaching influence, will probably for many years need Diocesan aid.

The industrial section represented by those Parishes and Missions located on or near the Delaware River present all the problems that exist in larger measure in the City of Philadelphia.

The work of the Convocation is always intensely interesting.

At Springfield we have acquired a most desirable location for a most promising work. We hope in three years time to have a fine independent Parish here.

Trinity, Collingdale, is still advancing under the leadership of Dr. Davies. Plans are being prepared for a Parish Building, which will be the first unit of a group of buildings to replace our present frame structure.

Services are regularly conducted at St. Luke's, Chadds Ford, by the Rector of St. John's, Concord, and at St. John's, Essington, by the Rector of Christ Church, Ridley Park.

All Saints, Darby, and Incarnation, Drexel Hill, are the two largest Missions of the Convocation and each is carrying on a vigorous work.

Holy Sacrament, Highland Park, is looking forward to enlarging its present structure to accommodate its growing congregation.

Advent, Kennett, is rejoicing and advancing its work under the faithful shepherding of Rev. Mr. Spalding, who also serves St. John's, New London, and St. Andrew's, Oxford.

Great advance has been made at St. James', Prospect Park. Nearly $3,000 is in hand for a Rectory and the Mission has the enviable record of contributing more than $750 for extra-parochial Missions.

Through the generosity of an unfailing friend of St. Luke's, Eddystone, pews costing $600 and other needs to the extent of over $200 have been presented to the Mission. Individual gifts of kneeling stools, announcement board, etc., have been made by members of the Mission.

St. Giles', Stonehurst, promises to become one of the flourishing churches in the adjoining suburbs of Philadelphia. Commendable progress has been made during the past year and from the size and location of the lot, it should become a commanding Parish in that section of Delaware County.

Notwithstanding the disturbance in financial and industrial circles at Parkesburg, the Church of the Ascension shows advancement both spiritually and financially under the loving care of the Rector of Trinity Church, Collegeville.

CONVOCATION OF WEST PHILADELPHIA

The Missions of this Convocation hitherto maintained have been kept up well during the year 1924. The Holy Comforter Mission at Forty-eighth Street and Haverford Avenue is still awaiting the opening of the Kirkbride tract for building purposes, which might give it some hope for the future, but on the other hand the colored people are steadily encroaching on the site.

St. Titus' Mission, under the care of the Rev. George McKinley, has done marvelously well the past year—better perhaps than ever before in its history, both spiritually and materially. The future will determine whether this Church will not have to be moved to a site nearer the center of the new building operations in the vicinity of Island Road and the present building used for a colored Church.

The Mission at Fifty-eighth Street and Springfield Avenue, or that vicinity, remains our only possible new venture. St. Asaph's, Bala, and the Convocation have conducted a survey of the Wynnefield section and it is not very encouraging for the establishment of another Church there. The district is almost entirely Hebrew, and even Roman Catholics are moving out of that section, though they have a school and Church there.

A survey of the Parishes as to "changes and possibilities of new work" carried out by a committee of the Convocation, reveals a rather discouraging outlook for the present organizations, with the exception of one or two Parishes established in the center of the new building operations and exodus to the City Line and beyond. The next two or three or more years will definitely decide what character this section of the city will assume. It is rapidly changing into a moving and transient apartment house section over a large area of the Convocation.

No large sums of money ought to be expended in plants until some settled and more permanent outlook seems assured.

THE CONVOCATION OF SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

The Convocation of South Philadelphia has gone quietly and uneventfully on its way during the year past. There is only one mission station in the Convocation, the Chapel of the Transfiguration, which is doing exceptionally good work under the capable supervision of the Rev. H. Cresson McHenry, as may be seen from its statistical report given below. The real missionary work of the Convocation of South Philadelphia is racial, including our work among colored people, the French, and the Italian. As the racial work is conducted under Commissions there is no control which the Convocation has over such work within its boundaries. There is a very real question involved here as to whether or not this should be. It is my opinion that all missionary work within a Convocation should be under the control of the Convocation, which is an integral part of the Diocese, created for missionary work.

There has been appointed a committee of the Convocation to coöperate with like committees of other Convocations of the Diocese relative to the five year program. The report of this committee promises to make interesting reading. It is an encouragement to those of us who are interested in the missionary work of the Diocese and in its extension to know that such a program is being prepared.

In Social Service activity we are still only putting patches on the old and torn garments. We are apparently not yet ready for a program of Social Service work adequate either to our profession or our capacity as a Church. Pray God we shall some time wake up to the cries of God's little ones to be heard all about us. We need not lessen our work abroad in order to do it more thoroughly at home. Right here at home in South Philadelphia we can

> Proclaim to every people, tongue and nation
> That God, in Whom they live and move, is love:
> Tell how He stooped to save His lost creation,
> And died on earth that man might live above.

CONVOCATION OF NORTH PHILADELPHIA

The Convocation of North Philadelphia continues its work with steady progress. There are many and great problems, as our missionary efforts are carried on in one of the most densely populated and largest industrial centers in the world, and include not only the missions in Kensington but work among the foreign-born.

While not directly under our jurisdiction many of our Church institutions are situated in this section of the city, and are a constant challenge to our special interest and responsibility. These institutions include the Episcopal Hospital, the Sheltering Arms, the Seaman's Church Institute, Kensington Boys' Club, St. John's Settlement House, and the Galilee Mission. Our executive board functions as an Executive Council, cooperating with the Dean, and passes on important questions between the convention meetings. With the advice and counsel of the Board a survey is being prepared which will include our needs and general outlook for the future.

Two years ago $4,000 was borrowed from the Diocese to complete improvements and repairs to St. Nathanael's, enabling that mission to become a parish. Of this sum $1,300 has been returned and at the last meeting over $1,200 was pledged. We hope in the near future to liquidate this indebtedness.

The Rev. A. J. Kilpatrick resigned from St. George's, Venango, after a year and a half of faithful service, to become assistant at Old Christ Church. For several months the services were taken by supplies and lay readers, and in December the Rev. Arnold H. Hord became the missionary in charge. The outlook is most promising, and the work is going forward. The Chapel building has been repaired and painted inside and outside, and a new heating plant installed at a cost of $1,500. We are most grateful for an additional grant of $500 which will make possible the completion of the fence and other improvements which have been so much needed There is great need in this mission for a parish hall which would also be a community center.

St. George's, Richmond, continues its remarkable work under the Rev. A. J. Arkin. There still remains a mortgage of $20,000 on the property which makes a heavy charge for interest in the missionary funds of the diocese. We hope this can be removed in the near future. During 1925 about $2,500 will be needed for extensive repairs on the church roof, and this will be a special emergency expense which cannot be delayed without larger cost and serious damage.

Under the Rev. Frederick B. Halsey, St. Ambrose Mission has had a year of marked progress. There is a great future for this church, and we would put first on the forward program of the Convocation a large and suitable parish house for St. Ambrose. The basement room is overcrowded and the activities are hampered. This is a strategic center and is worthy of every possible help and encouragement.

One of the outstanding missions in the diocese is St. Augustine's for colored people, and the results have been due to the leadership and faithfulness of the Rev. Henry S. McDuffy. Mr. McDuffy has not been in good health. He has felt the long strain of many labors, and yet the mission has gone forward. Fortunately, an assistant has now been provided, and the Rev. Joseph H. Hudson has entered upon his duties. This will enable Mr. McDuffy to continue as Priest in Charge, and have the help he has needed for a long time.

The Hebrew Christian Synagogue, located at 517 N. Fifth Street, which is the center of the Church's mission to the Jews in the Diocese, continued during the year its work among this race. The services were well attended. Evening classes in English were held during the week.

A Church School is conducted by Miss Mary Ormsby, who has carried on the work since the resignation of Mr. Solomon, and classes are held during the week for the children. A successful daily vacation Bible school was conducted last summer.

Many people are deeply interested in this mission, and the committee hope in the near future to secure a resident clergyman.

All Soul's Church for the Deaf has suffered a great loss in the death of the Rev. C. O. Dantzer, who labored so faithfully for many years, and under whose guidance the fine church and parish house were built. The Rev. Warren M. Smaltz, his successor, is doing a splendid work, and keeping up the fine traditions of this mission. All Soul's is the only church in Philadelphia ministering entirely to deaf people, and the congregation is drawn from all over the city and many places outside. (See report of Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf.)

The work among the foreign-born has been carried on in the Advent Mission and Holy Redeemer, both missions to the Poles, and St. Mary of the Annunciation for Italians under the Rev. Sylvio Biagini. These missions are included in the report of the Archdeacon, and we are working together with deep interest and accord.

Particular attention is again called to pressing need for a church building for the Polish congregation worshipping at St. George's, Richmond. Connected with this work is a large day school, and we are assured that within two years this church would be self-supporting. The Rev. Mr. Arkin and the people of St. George's have been most hospitable, but the time has come for independent action. This, of course, would have to be undertaken as an effort of the Diocese, but there would be large material and spiritual returns.

As a Convocation we are deeply grateful for the splendid cooperation of the Woman's Aid under the leadership of Miss Laura Bell. The last year was the most successful in the history of this organization; $100 was contributed as an emergency, and an additional $1,000 has been set aside toward a building for St. George's, Venango, still leaving a considerable balance for new work.

We wish again to thank Mr. Casper Wister Haines for his great kindness in welcoming us for the annual lawn fête held last June at his beautiful and historic place in Germantown.

During the past year the meetings of the Convocation have been well attended and the interest sustained.

N. V. P. LEVIS,
Dean.

CONVOCATION OF GERMANTOWN

The Convocation has maintained the high standard of its work during the past year through the faithfulness and self-sacrifice of its missionaries. They are quietly giving of themselves for the Master's service without thought of praise or reward.

This leads us to record as an event of first importance something new in the history of the Germantown Convocation, or any Convocation so far as we have been informed—the elevation of one of its missionaries to the Episcopate, in the Consecration of the Rt. Rev. Samuel Babcock Booth as Bishop Coadjutor of Vermont.

The Convocation showed its appreciation of this honor; and its affection for this earnest missionary by wishing him God's blessing in his new work, and presenting him his episcopal robes. Let us hope the Church of the future will look for leadership more frequently among these earnest, self-effacing men.

The Country Center Mission has cared for six Missions during the year. Of these, St. James', Langhorne, has grown most, and probably will become a self-supporting Parish in the near future.

St. Andrew's, Yardley, under the Rev. Francis B. Barnett, who also has charge of St. Wilfred's, Dollington, shows an excellent growth during the past two years, with twenty-one confirmed at that time.

Emmanuel, Quakertown, under the Rev. William J. Wilkie, carrying on its steady work, is ministering to the scattered Church families in that neighborhood. This missionary is also holding services at Iveyville and Sellersville.

St. Gabriel's, Feltonville, has completed the basement of its Parish House. At once, it became a center of activities. It gives the Sunday School sufficient room; and it has taken bazaars and entertainments and sales out of the Chapel, where they never did properly mix with the sacred services of the Church. The steady growth in communicants, and the increased offerings from $1000 to $5000 in five years, show how the work is prospering. The rest of the Parish Building should be erected at once.

The Incarnation, Morrisville, under able administration has added nearly 100 communicants, and doubled its offerings in five years. The Community Parish House has more than realized the hopes of its advocates. With the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, the Red Cross, the Library Association, the Home and School League, and the Boy Scouts under its roof, it has caused the life of Morrisville to center around the Episcopal Church. Already the Library contains 4500 volumes and during the first six months 9000 books were taken out. Enthusiastic applause was heard in the Executive Council when the $600 provided for first year's maintenance of the Community House was returned with many thanks. The revenues were so much larger than had been thought possible.

St. Barnabas', Germantown, the largest of the Missions with its 250 communicants is rejoicing in and making full use of its Parish House basement for which it raised over $6000 last year. Every afternoon and evening is this building in use; and the enthusiastic missionary leading his people has started a fund to build the second story and complete the Parish House. Fifteen thousand dollars is needed, and these good people by their own earnest efforts over a space of six months have raised $1750. It has been conclusively proven that money in these basements draws better interest than money left to accumulate in bank. The children and youth cannot wait. They grow up while we plan. This congregation should be helped to complete this building as soon as possible.

CONVOCATION OF NORRISTOWN

There have been two important changes in the Missions of the Convocation during the year. The Rev. William Roberts, Missionary in Charge of Epiphany Mission, Royersford, resigned in December to become the Rector of Holy Innocents Church, Tacony, Philadelphia, and the Mission is now under the supervision of the Diocesan Missionary, the Rev. Mr. Bullitt, assisted by Mr. Edward Kaltenbach, a member of the Mission, as Lay-Reader. On November 16th, the new Chapel at Glenside held its first Service in charge of the Rev. Mr. Copeland, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Weldon. The Bishop of the Diocese presided and the Dean of the Convocation and Dean Van Meter of the Convocation of Germantown took part in the Service. This work is at present the joint responsibility of the Convocation and St. Peter's Church, Weldon, and the Diocese has furnished Mr. Copeland with an automobile to aid him in serving here. The Sunday School already has an attendance of about 100 and there is every prospect of the development of a strong and useful Church.

During the year the Dean and members of the Missionary Committee have visited our five Missions and studied the situation in each place carefully, both with reference to present conditions and future needs and opportunities. At the October meeting of Convocation, the Rev. Mr. Scofield gave an illustrated lecture which brought vividly before our people the history and the present situation of each Mission.

St. Anne's Mission, Willow Grove, is rapidly becoming the center of a populous suburban development and we should, as soon as possible, help to provide much better equipment for this field. At present there is a small frame building which must be used for all purposes. The Diocese owns a splendid lot of ground here, very well located at the corner of York and Welsh Roads.

Advent Mission, Hatboro, also in charge of Mr. Lamb, has had a year of quiet growth, with excellent future prospects.

The pledges for the new year reveal an encouraging increase in contributions for both the home work and for the Church's missionary program. This Mission greatly needs a Parish House and plans for same have been prepared, which also contemplate the building of a new Rectory on the grounds, when the present house can be sold.

Holy Trinity Mission, Lansdale, in charge of the Rev. William J. Wilkie, reports an encouraging year. There are now 118 communicants here and the contributions the past year were over $2400.

Epiphany Mission, Royersford, continues to have a hard struggle. The work is small, there are 55 communicants; but there is a splendid Church and Rectory here and a nucleus of devoted people.

Trinity Mission, Gulph Mills, continues under the faithful volunteer leadership of its Lay-Reader, Mr. George H. Randall, and recently has had considerable encouragement. A class of six was confirmed in November and the people are manifesting increased interest in response to Mr. Randall's devoted work. A new heating plant has recently been installed, replacing the old equipment which had completely broken down. This improvement was made possible by the help of the Diocese; but the people of the Mission were largely responsible for the installation of running water, which will be a great help in their Parish activities.

The Woman's Aid has contributed $800 towards the Building Fund of the Glenside Chapel during the past year.

STANLEY R. WEST,
Dean.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

I

For the past five years the Department of Religious Education has urged the appointment of a Secretary of Religious Education.

In May, 1921, the Executive Council expressed the hope that the securing of such a Secretary will be one of the first steps in the further development of the work of the Diocese. (Journal, 1921, page 293.)

In May, 1922, the following resolution was adopted by the Diocesan Convention: "Resolved, That this Convention approves the plan by which a Diocesan Secretary of Religious Education should be selected by the Department of Religious Education, and appointed by the Council;

Provided, That the funds for salary and expenses can be secured without call upon the Diocese, either by the Cathedral Chapter, or out of balances in Diocesan funds available for forward work, or by a combination of these two resources; and Provided further, That the amount of said salary and said expenses, and the definition of the duties of such Secretary, be determined by the Council either directly, or through its Department of Religious Education." (Journal, 1922, page 73.)

In May, 1923, the Executive Council reported to Convention: "The appointment of an Executive Secretary for the Department (of Religious Education) is still unsettled, and like other similar matters, awaits the decision of the Convention with reference to the relation of the Cathedral Foundation to the Diocese. . . . The Department hopes that whatever the decision, there will not be any considerable delay in the authorization of such Secretary for the Department." (Journal, 1923, page 292.)

In May, 1924, the Executive Council reported to Convention: "It is still felt that an Executive Secretary is essential

if the matters which the Department has under consideration are to be effectively consummated, and definite plans looking toward this end will soon be presented." (Journal, 1924, page 287.)

In this year's report, May, 1925, the Executive Council says: "This Department urged very vigorously during the year an appropriation to enable the securing of the services of an Executive Secretary; the Department was much disappointed when the Council after a vigorous argument declined to authorize the appropriation. The refusal was based chiefly on the lack of funds and in view of the better situation of the Diocese financially it is earnestly to be hoped that the appropriation may be allowed in the near future."

Bishop Garland has repeatedly expressed himself as favoring the appointment of a Secretary of Religious Education.

From the foregoing it is clear that the Convention has placed itself on record as approving the plans for securing such a Secretary, that the Executive Council has done likewise, and that the reason for failure to make the appointment is lack of funds.

Removal of this difficulty is therefore our chief concern. We believe that nothing should be left undone to enable the Diocese through its Department of Religious Education to function effectively in this ever widening field.

The Department feels strongly that this matter should be judged on its merit in relation to other Budget items and not as "a new undertaking."

We feel too that $6,000 for the whole work of Religious Education in this great Diocese is not too large a proportion to ask out of a total Diocesan Budget of $215,000.

II

During the year the Department has strengthened its organization by a revision of its Commissions. Their scope has been widened to conform to the new opportunities that have presented themselves and their functions have been clarified to prevent overlapping and to increase their efficiency.

The six Commissions now active are those of (1) Church Schools, (2) Teacher Training, (3) Young People, (4) Adult Education, (5) College Students, and (6) Week-day Religious Instruction.

The Lenten Offering under the charge of the Commission on Church Schools, was larger in 1924 than in any previous year, totaling $66,540.10—an increase of $5,705.28. This was in spite of a decrease in gifts from the Parishes to the National Council for Maintenance of over $44,000, so that while in 1923 the Lenten Offering constituted about 25 per cent. of our Diocese's contributions to the National Council for Maintenance in 1924 the Lenten Offering constituted over 34 per cent. Thus one dollar in every three was given by the children in the Church Schools.

In addition to the Lenten Offering, children in our Sunday Schools contributed during the year over $12,000, as reported by the Church School Service League.

The Commission held its Annual Institute in October in St. James', the meetings being well attended and much interest being developed.

A Diocesan Standard for Religious Education was issued as a guide to the Church Schools of the Diocese and was distributed to all the Parishes.

The Advent Offering of the Church Schools was devoted, at the request of the Bishop, to the fund for a Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.

Recently the Commission has established at St. John's, Northern Liberties, a Church School in order to provide some religious training for the children in that neighborhood. It was found that some 180 children were available for such a school, and so this work was undertaken in the hope of making this school a model for any similar enterprise.

So widely has the Church School Service League been established throughout the Diocese and so helpful has it been, that its ever-increasing usefulness is a matter of constant inspiration. Its Christmas activities were especially noteworthy and its call to the children for service will find its ultimate value to the Church in the years to come.

For the training of teachers for our Church Schools, the Commission on Teacher Training has provided a Normal School with fourteen courses and additional coaching classes, as well as a Lecture course for all students. The attendance was larger this year than ever before in the history of the Diocese. Many of the students are taking full courses leading to membership in the National Accredited Teachers' Association, while others take only such courses as will aid them in the current work of their Church Schools.

The Commission on Young People, a new Commission formed this year, has planned for and assisted in the formation of the Young People's Fellowship composed of Young People's Societies of the Diocese. There are some forty-three Societies of this kind, thirty-six of which are actively associated with the Fellowship. The newly formed Fellowship held its first Convention this Spring. It should prove an important factor in holding our young people in the service of the Church.

The death of Mrs. Henry A. Pilsbry, the Educational Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary, was a great loss to the Commission on Adult Education. Her zeal and inspiration in forming and conducting Mission Study Classes and her long experience therein will be greatly missed. Many Study Classes were conducted during Advent and Lent. Their value in Mission work would be difficult to rightly appraise.

At the University of Pennsylvania the work among the students is carried forward vigorously, but the Commission on College Students can do little towards functioning in the many other colleges and schools in the city. Here is a very fertile field for development awaiting an Executive Secretary.

The Commission on Week-day Religious Instruction has not as yet succeeded in securing the co-operation of the schools in Philadelphia for religious instruction on school time. Religious instruction has been established, however, in the towns of Jenkintown, Chester and Lansdowne. This is an opportunity needing the most careful and patient cultivation, if we are to give again to the children of our schools any knowledge of Christ.

Thus, in all the Commissions of the Department, the year has represented a period of foundation building and a time of real growth and development.

III

We trust that this report, somewhat more detailed than is the usual custom, will show the great extent of the field which the Department is attempting to cover and the opportunity facing it—a great opportunity which, please God, the Diocese will have the faith to grasp in a great way.

The knowledge and love of God and of His Son, our Saviour, must be taught both to the children in our Church Schools, and, in time, to those in our Public Schools as well. And, with love in their hearts, we must train them in the joy of service, so that, as they pass from childhood to young manhood and young womanhood, they may continue in the fellowship and worship and service of the Church. And finally as men and women, educated in the Church and to its mission, knowing the happiness that service brings, we must help them to teach, in their turn, the children and thus to keep the Light ever shining in ever-increasing strength until the day dawn and the darkness flee away.

Respectfully submitted for the Department,

CHARLES E. TUKE,
Vice-Chairman.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL SERVICE AND INSTITUTIONS

The Department records its sense of irreparable loss in the death of Mr. Morris Earle. He was invariably present at its meetings and his advice was always received with much appreciation. As Chairman of the Committee on Institutions he had a special knowledge of a number of Institutions and had been in charge of the survey that is being made of them.

Platform of the Department

The Department believes that it cannot itself engage in Social Service work, not having the funds or the personnel required. It believes that it should be rather a clearing house of ideas and ideals; that it should keep in touch with and aid all movements for Social Betterment; that it should study all Social Legislation and make every effort to assist in the passage of new laws which it approves. In particular, it believes that it should strive to arouse in our people "Social Mindedness," i. e., the habit of approaching all social problems in a Christian spirit. To accomplish this purpose it should have a Social Service Circle in every Church to which it may go with information and for co-operation; the Woman's Auxiliary is helping in this important organization step.

Of the Organization

The Department is subdivided into a number of different committees. The Committee on Inter-Racial and Inter-National Fellowship arranged a meeting during Armistice Week in the interests of peace at St. Stephen's Church at which Major General John F. O'Ryan was the speaker.

A committee on the Motion Picture industry, Mrs. Thomas Potter, Jr., Chairman, has been very active. Upon its recommendation the Department supported the so-called Upshaw bill to regulate all motion picture production by Congress

The Committee on Rural Work, the Rev. Jules Prevost, Chairman, sent Doctor Prevost to the Rural Church Conference held at Madison, Wisconsin, where Doctor Prevost was elected President of the Rural Workers Fellowship.

The Committee on Institutions, Mr. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, Chairman, has arranged for the further survey of our Diocesan Institutions by Miss Dorothea Coe, succeeding Miss Carpenter; she has been studying the House of St. Michael and All Angels and the House of the Holy Child and will proceed with the study of the other Institutions in order.

The same Committee has endorsed the recommendation of Archdeacon White for the continued support of St. John's Settlement House, which under the guidance of Archdeacon White and the management of Deaconess Young, is now doing a successful work.

The Committee on Legislation, Mr. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, Chairman, has been especially active, this being the year that the Pennsylvania State Legislature is in session.

On December 18th the Department held a forum for the discussion of the Child Labor Amendment in Holy Trinity Parish House. Subsequently the Department endorsed the proposed Child Labor Amendment to the Federal Constitution and expresses its regret that this Amendment was not adopted. The Department, through this Committee, is co-operating with the Social Service Departments of the four other Dioceses of this State. Thus co-operating, and with the backing of the Department of Public Welfare and the Public Charities Association, it has endorsed a considerable number of bills along Social Service lines, including bills for appropriations for Institutions for the deficient and dependent elements of the population, and bills to increase the marriageable age to sixteen and to prevent hasty marriages.

The Committee on Law and Order, Rev. Percy R. Stockman, Chairman, sent the Resolution adopted at the Diocesan Convention of 1924 on the subject of Law Observance to the Mayor and Director of Public Safety and to all the Clergy. It endorsed bills looking towards stricter control and regulation by the State of the manufacture and sale of beverages within the State, and regrets that they were not adopted by the Legislature. Members of the Committee were instrumental in obtaining the continuance in office of General Butler as Director of Public Safety during the past year.

The attention of all Churchmen is called to the following definition of the Church's Social task "To seek through education and inspiration to bring the individual and the Community to apply the principles of Jesus Christ to the relations which men bear to one another."

WOOD STEWART,
Vice-Chairman.

REPORT FOR DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY

The operations of the Department of Publicity in 1924 were marked by increasing evidences of growth and development as a service unit of the Diocese. To a greater extent than ever before it has been consulted and utilized along various lines by the clergy and laity of the parishes, in addition to rendering publicity service. Reports received from those who have come into contact with the department during the year indicate due appreciation of the service rendered.

In the department's special field of publicity the year's record shows excellent results. Newspapers almost invariably consult the department before printing any doubtful "news," and editors have given ample testimony to its dependability. The regular press service which is maintained by the department has been recognized as reliable and efficient by the newspapers generally. They have responded to this kind of service, on the whole, by giving liberal newspaper space and respectful treatment of Church news and information.

A striking instance of the newspapers' response to the Department's service was shown in the Japan Reconstruction Fund Campaign. In that period more than twenty-three columns of newspaper space in Philadelphia alone was given during the progress of the campaign.

The department continues to supply news matter regularly to the correspondents of the Church weeklies, and its director also serves as Diocesan Correspondent for the National Department of Publicity and in an advisory capacity on the Publicity Committee of the Welfare Federation.

The Church News: The year 1924 showed continuing increased improvement in our Diocesan publication. Many expressions of commendation have been given clergy and laity on its general appearance both as to quality and content. It is a pleasure to report that its operations in 1924, as in 1923, were conducted without any call on the 1924 Diocesan Budget allowance set aside for its use. According to the present outlook, the department feels confident 1925 will produce similar results. Since 1921 it has cost the Diocese less than $100 a year. Although the paper was increased in size during virtually the entire year of 1924, it was able to pay its own way through co-operation between the editorial and business management in various economies and through increased sale of advertising space. Advertisers have been loyal in their support and care is taken to accept only the most reputable class of advertising.

Increase of circulation is the most pressing need. Its present circulation averages about 2500. There are thousands of our communicants whose homes the paper ought to but does not reach. We are depending entirely upon subscriptions. The department has completed a survey of methods recently adopted or about to be adopted in upwards of twenty-five Dioceses. The subscription method is being supplemented by distribution in a number of instances to each church home represented on the Annual Every Member pledge cards, the expense of distribution being borne by the Diocese. In other instances parishes pay the cost of such distribution. The Department is now at work on the results of its survey with a view of suggesting some plan that can be put into operation here. In the meantime, we would again appeal for a united co-operative effort on the part of our parishes in support of the Diocesan paper, and getting it into the homes of our people.

Because of pressure of other duties, the Rev. F. E. Seymour resigned as Editor-in-Chief of The Church News last fall and the Bishop appointed the Rev. George Copeland to succeed Mr. Seymour.

Church Extension Fund: Operation of the Church Extension Fund details continues to be shared by the Department and the Executive Office. The department director serves as secretary of the Fund by appointment of the Bishop and prepares and issues all "Calls." The Executive Office receives all monies and keeps the financial accounts.

Use of the Church House: It is gratifying to report evidence of more general use of the Church House for meetings. The details of arranging accommodations for such meetings in 1924 have been conducted by the department with little or no confusion or difficulty. Our records show that in 1924 more large meetings were held than ever before and also show an increasing use of the building for luncheons in connection with meetings. A total of 551 meetings were held on scheduled dates arranged for in advance. A considerable number of other meetings for which no arrangements had been made in advance were provided for.

Exchange Bureau: This bureau of the department, conducted without expense, as a method of mutual helpfulness continued to function as a Clearing House through which discarded church furnishings no longer used by a parish are sent to parishes and missions in need of such furnishings. Through this bureau hundreds of dollars' worth of expense has been saved to parishes and missions by contributions of various articles such as small organs, pianos, choir vestments, altar hangings, church pews, lecterns, lectern bibles, hymn books, and sundry other furnishings. The bureau is at the service of any parish having anything to donate or of any parish or mission seeking articles of church furnishing.

Chairman.

Report of the Registrar of the Diocese

Since the last Convention an enormous amount of work has been accomplished towards making a complete catalogue of the contents of this office. The task is very far from being finished, and yet at this time, we have an accurate catalogue of the parochial histories in our library which comprises all our material on this subject except a few published works. The preparation of this catalogue made it necessary to examine carefully thousands of papers on file in this department. The credit for this great work is due entirely to Mr. Clarence K. Klink, a member of the Committee on Parochial History authorized by the Diocesan Convention. During the past winter, Mr. Klink spent many weeks at the Church House engaged in this laborious task. He received no compensation for his work. His service was a labor of love which I take this opportunity of acknowledging and for which all who are interested in our parochial history owe him a debt of thanks.

Parish papers have been received from a large number of our parishes and have been filed with the records of the parishes to which they refer. The registrar appreciates the cooperation of the rectors who realize the value of such contributions.

A copy of the "List of Deacons" ordained between the years 1785 and 1857, compiled by Bishop Burgess has been donated by the Church Historical Society.

One of the most interesting gifts received since the last Convention is a document relating to the election of an Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania during the episcopate of Bishop White. This paper is dated March 12, 1827, and is signed by the Rev. W. H. DeLancey, the Rev. Jackson Kemper, afterwards Bishops, Horace Binney and other persons of prominence in this city. The document is extremely interesting and valuable on account of the view it gives of some of the problems confronting the Church in this Diocese at that time and, incidentally, the sidelight it casts on the character and work of Bishop White.

The Registrar wishes to place on record his appreciation of the unfailing co-operation of the Rev. G. Woolsey Hodge, D.D., in all matters relating to the work of this office and to the Church in this Diocese.

The Registrar has continued the work of classifying and arranging the large collection of papers and other historical material removed from the Bishop's office in the old Church House. He has also performed the customary duties of this office in giving certified copies of the parish registers of which he is the custodian and in making frequent and sometimes laborious searches for persons who applied for information.

ARNOLD HARRIS HORD,
Registrar of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

APPENDIX M

Report of the Committee on Parochial History

The Committee has undertaken, the past year, a piece of real constructive work—that of making a catalogue of all the data now in the Registrar's office relating to the different Parishes and Missions of the Diocese.

The Registrar has long wanted this work done, but could not undertake it unaided.

Among this data it has found a number of histories or sketches of individual congregations.

It proposes to carry on this work by noting the dates to which these histories have been carried. They will then notify the present rectors, or ministers in charge of these Churches, of the information they have of their respective Cures, and apply to them, personally, to supply such additional items they can obtain, so as to bring them down to the present time.

For those Churches for which we have no histories, it will endeavor to obtain them in the same way.

This being all carefully catalogued, will enable persons to learn all they may want to know about particular Churches in the Diocese.

In the process of making this catalogue, the Committee has found in the Registrar's office a number of books and pamphlets not relating, in any way, to the Churches or work of the Diocese. These, the Registrar has, at the direction of the Bishop, turned over to the Church Historical Society, to be preserved in their general collections.

Of course, this process will have to be repeated from time to time, but at present the present Committee will have the satisfaction of knowing it has tried to discharge the purpose for which it was appointed,—that of obtaining and preserving the histories of our various Church organizations.

The Committee has also continued to preserve all parochial publications sent to it, and to paste in scrapbooks all current data it can cull from the daily or weekly papers relating to the Churches and Chapels, or the prominent laymen or women connected with the Diocese.

On behalf of the Committee,

G. WOOLSEY HODGE,
Chairman.

APPENDIX N

Report of the Commission on Clerical Salaries

1925

The Report of the Commission falls into two sections, closely related, and yet more or less distinct. I. CLERICAL SALARIES. II. CLERICAL PENSIONS.

I. CLERICAL SALARIES

We are glad to report steady progress, and in our work we count progress to mean an increasing recognition on the part of our lay people of the importance of adequate support for the clergy and a willingness to provide the necessary funds in the parishes rather than load it on the Diocese.

1. The Past Year

Last year we reported that in 1923 we had paid part of the salary of twenty-two rectors, together with the Pension Assessments thereon, at a total cost to the Diocese of $13,113.62. In 1924 we paid part of the salary of twenty-one rectors, together with the Pension Assessments thereon, at a total cost to the Diocese of $12,555.58. In 1925 we are paying part of the salary of eighteen rectors at an estimated cost of $11,000.00. This latter figure, in addition to the salary and Pension Assessments and $300 for the clerical work of the Commission Assessments, includes a sum to provide for arrears in Pension in its Pension Department. Thus there has been a steady decrease in the number of salaries augmented and in the amounts. That is a healthy evidence of progress.

The decrease this year is due in part also to the fact that two parishes, St. Mark's, Honeybrook, and St. John's, Concord, on the recommendation of the Commission and with the approval of the Bishop, have taken the status of Missions and receive their support from the Executive Council through the Department of Missions. Two parishes have relinquished their grants and pay the salary of their rectors in full, St. Paul's, Oaks, and St. James's, Downingtown. Over against this decrease of four is an addition of two parishes. The former rector of Christ Church, Eddington, derived an income from work outside the parish, and so received no grant from the Commission. The new rector is giving his whole time to the parish and so becomes entitled to a grant toward his salary. The other new parish is the Church of the Atonement, Morton, which, some years ago, bravely undertook to carry the burden of the whole salary, and now finds itself not quite equal to the load.

2. A Further Step

The Commission reminds the Convention briefly of the history of our attempt to deal with the salary question. When the present scale of salaries was adopted, we knew from a careful survey that it would cost about $50,000 to put it into immediate operation. That seemed a larger sum than we could reasonably expect to raise for the purpose. So for the first year we attempted only to reach half way to that goal, and estimated that it might cost the Diocese $30,000 to do even that much. There is no doubt that it did cost the Diocese from $30,000 to $50,000 to bring the salaries of the clergy up to that standard, but the Diocese as a whole through the Sustentation Fund has never had to pay more than $15,000 for the parishes, because the parishes themselves have responded generously to the ideal, and have themselves undertaken to pay at least the minimum, or a much closer approximation to it than they had been reaching in the past. So that venture of faith met a much larger measure of success than we had dared to hope.

The Commission is convinced that the time has come to make yet another venture of faith in this whole matter. We are convinced from our years of work and study, and our dealings with the clergy and parishes, that the minimum provided, especially for the clergy who have been a number of years in the ministry, is altogether too low. Two thousand dollars a year and rectory is not an adequate salary, and is hardly even a living wage in these days. It ought to be increased to $2,400 and rectory. And we are also convinced that the lay people of the Diocese, from whom the funds must come, are of that mind and are willing to work toward this standard.

We recognize that the younger men, men in the early years of their ministry, expect to live on small salaries, and share the experience of their brethren of other professions. So we are not so greatly concerned to increase the scale for the earlier years. But the clergy, like other professional men, are entitled to look ahead to promotion and a larger measure of support as the years go by.

We feel that our scale should be revised as follows:

I. For the first three years in Priest's Orders $1,200.00
II. After three years in Priest's Orders ..... $1,500.00 and Rectory
III. After five years in Priest's Orders ..... $1,800.00 and Rectory
IV. After eight years in Priest's Orders ..... $2,100.00 and Rectory
V. After ten years in Priest's Orders ..... $2,400.00 and Rectory

No change is proposed in the first three classes. In the fourth class there is an increase of $100 a year. And a fifth class has been added,—those who have served as priests for ten years, who shall receive $2,400.00 and rectory.

3. Immediate Action

We recognize that it would be extremely difficult to put this whole program into effect at once. We do not ask that. We ask two things:

(1) We ask that the Diocese adopt the whole program at least tentatively as a possible standard to be reached gradually over a period of years, perhaps three or four. In the meantime the parishes would be adjusting themselves to the new scale; and we are confident that we would have the same experience we had in the beginning of this movement—an increasing manifestation of the ability and the will on the part of the parishes to carry the load themselves, and require less and less aid from the Diocese as a whole.

(2) We ask that the Diocese immediately adopt this much of the Program: That for the year 1926 the minimum salary of the clergy who have been eight years in Priest's Orders shall be $2,100.00 and rectory. This would give an increase of $100 a year to the bulk of those of our clergy who are receiving only the present minimum.

4. What It Would Cost

About ninety clergymen in the Diocese would be affected by this increase. And it would involve almost exactly $10,000 in money, including the necessary increase in the Pension Assessments. And that sum would be absorbed in three ways:

(1) About $3,000 would come from the Department of Missions to care for the increase among the Missionaries of the Diocese. The whole Diocese would have to pay this increase through the Parish Quota, as this part of the increase would necessarily be included in the Diocesan Budget.

(2) At least $2,000 of it would come from the Sustentation Fund, and probably more, possibly as much as $3,500. This would appear in the Assessments on the parishes for the Sustentation Fund. We cannot be sure as to this amount on account of the uncertainty as to the absorbing power of the third factor.

(3) Unquestionably many parishes would at once increase the salary of their rectors to meet the new minimum. Those who could not do so, would, of course, be assisted by the Sustentation Fund. We can ascertain the exact facts only after a careful survey and conferences with the parishes affected.

No canonical changes would be involved in accomplishing this purpose. The amounts of the minimum are not fixed by the Canon. The Canon simply provides that there shall be a minimum, and that it may be fixed from time to time by resolution of the Convention. That is all that is necessary at this time, and the Commission appends to its report the necessary resolutions and submits them for the consideration of the Convention.

II. CLERICAL PENSIONS

Pursuant to the action of the last Convention the Commission took over the care of Pension affairs in October. It has involved a very large amount of work to familiarize ourselves with and systematize, this very complicated work. The Commission wishes to place on record its appreciation and admiration for the fine spirit in which the clerical staff of the Executive Office has gone into this task and the excellent results attained. We are also grateful for the increasing measure of understanding and sympathetic co-operation we are receiving from the parochial authorities.

We are glad to be able to report to the Convention that the Pension affairs of the Diocese are in splendid condition. So far as we know the Pension Assessments of every clergyman for whom the Diocese is responsible are paid in full, and both as a whole group and as individuals the clergy of the Diocese are in good standing with the Pension Fund.

1. Report for the Year

At the close of the business December 31, 1924, some twenty parishes and missions were in arrears for their 1924 assessments to the amount of $851.74, an unusually small amount. The Commission, in order to protect these clergymen and to put the Diocese in good standing, and acting under the authority and instructions given by the last Diocesan Convention, advanced this amount, and paid these assessments. Since then we have received from these parishes as applying on this advance $329.28. We have definite assurances that $241.27 more will be repaid early in April. Of the remainder there is a possibility that we may be able to collect another item of $208.26, or some part of it, but there is some doubt as to this. There is an item of $108 which we shall probably be unable to collect. The net result is that the Diocese is in good standing with the Pension Fund for the year 1924 at a cost to the Sustentation Fund of $314.26 at the most, and possibly as little as $108. When it is remembered that the Pension Assessments per year in this Diocese approximate $50,000, scattered through our nearly 200 parishes and missions, this is a showing for which we may well be grateful, and "decently proud in the Lord."

We should also like to give expression to our appreciation of the courtesy, assistance and co-operation we have received from the officials of the Church Pension Fund in inaugurating the new system in this Diocese. New pensions have been granted promptly, and the widow's gratuity sent at once, in every case where it was due under the rules of the Fund.

The total receipts of the pension part of our work have been $48,474.23, and we have disbursed $48,417.11, leaving a balance of $57.12. New pensions have been granted to two of our clergy who have retired by reason of age. New pensions have been granted to the widows of seven of our clergy who have died during the year, four of them receiving the widow's gratuity of $1,000.

2. The Widow's Gratuity

Scveral years ago the Trustees of the Pension Fund found that they had a certain amount of income which they could use at their discretion. It was available because of the excellent showing of the Church as a whole in meeting the Pension Assessments. It has been continued from year to year, and probably will go on as long as the Church continues its excellent record in meeting the assessments. This income amounts to about $50,000 a year. The Trustees decided that, so long as the sum remained available for the purpose, they would distribute the amount in grants to the widows of clergymen in a lump sum of $1,000 each, to be paid immediately upon the death of the clergyman.

Two conditions are attached to this gift:

(1) The Pension Assessments of the deceased must have been paid in full and the Diocese to which he belongs must, as a whole, be in good standing with the Pension Fund. The necessity and justice of this rule is obvious when it is remembered that the only reason the Fund has the money to give is that the Church as a whole meets its assessments. If the Church should fail in any serious degree to meet the assessments, then the funds for this gratuity would no longer be available. It is right, therefore, that those should benefit whose compliance with the system makes it possible to have such a gift at all.

(2) The beneficiary must be the widow of a clergyman dying in active service. It is not granted to the widows of clergymen who had already retired, and were at the time of death in receipt of a pension. The reason for this is also clear. The funds, the income from which provides the money for these gratuities, yield only $50,000 a year. The number of deaths among the clergy yearly is about 120. The fund does not yield enough to pay the widows of all of them $1,000 apiece. That is obvious. The Trustees decided that, in their judgment, the money was most needed by, and would do the most good to, the widows of clergymen in active service. As there are about fifty of these in a year it meant $1,000 to each of them.

The Commission has no doubt that the great body of the clergy is grateful for this generous action of the Trustees, and appreciates this evidence of the interest and desire of the Trustees to increase the measure of help which comes to the over-burdened families of clergymen, who by the nature of their profession are not in the way of making provision for their heirs as other men are.

But the Commission respectfully dissents from the judgment of the Trustees as to where this help is most needed. In this Diocese the expression of the opinion that the widows of clergymen dying out of active service should share in any such benefits has been positive and practically universal. The last Convention of the Diocese gave expression to this point of view in a resolution addressed to the Pension Fund.

It has been urged that the General Convention, which meets this year, should take some action by way of recommendation or instruction to the Pension Fund in this matter; or at any rate that the matter should be called to the attention of the Convention through our Deputies.

The Commission has discussed this question often and fully. Any action of ours as a Convention, if it is to be helpful, should be based on an accurate knowledge of the facts and should contain a definite recommendation. The general discussion has not always been at pains to ascertain the facts.

The facts to be faced are these: (1) The amount of money available for this purpose is only $50,000. (2) The number of deaths among the clergy are about 120 a year. (3) The Trustees have not sufficient funds legally available for the purpose to make a grant of $1,000 to the widows of all clergymen dying in one year.

In view of these facts there are three possible recommendations:

(1) We can recommend that the present rule be continued, and the grant made to the widows of clergymen dying in active service. We believe that very few, if any, wish that.

(2) We can recommend that the money be divided only among the widows of clergymen dying out of active service, as being on the whole the most needy. They might each get approximately $700. This seems hardly fair or right, and in some cases would work serious hardship to the widow of a clergyman dying in active service. For example, there is the tragedy which ensues when a man dies in the early years of his ministry, leaving a widow and young children. Because his salary in all probability has been comparatively small, and assessments have been paid for a short time, the widow's pension would never be more than the minimum of $300, and a lump sum at such a crisis would be of the greatest help.

(3) We can recommend that the whole sum available for the purpose be divided pro rata and without discrimination among the widows of all the clergy dying within the year. This would probably mean that each would receive approximately $400. This is the mind of the Commission, and of the clergy generally, so far as we have been able to test it.

We therefore append and offer a resolution which we hope our Deputies will be instructed to present to the General Convention as a Memorial from the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

The financial report of the Commission is included in that of the Treasurer of the Diocese, under the heading "Sustentation Fund."

We submit the following resolutions:

1. Resolved: That it is the conviction of this Convention that the minimum salary for clergymen who have been in Priest's Orders ten years or more should be $2,400 and rectory. The Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions is hereby instructed to make a further study of the subject, and report to the next Annual Convention ways and means of putting this conviction into effect. In the meantime the parishes of the Diocese are urged to meet this standard.

And Further: That the Executive Council through its Department of Missions, be requested to make a study of the proposed change as it shall affect the missions of the Diocese; and that such committee as may be appointed for this purpose meet with the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions to compare findings before the Commission presents its final report to the Convention.

II. Resolved: That for the year 1926 the minimum salary for clergymen who have been in Priest's Orders for eight years be increased from $2,000 and rectory to $2,100 and rectory; and that the Executive Council is hereby instructed to provide for this increase as to the Missionaries through its Department of Missions; and that the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions is hereby instructed to provide, where necessary, for this increase as to rectors through the Sustentation Fund.

III. Resolved: That parishes not now paying at least $2,100 and rectory to their rectors, if they have been in Priest's Orders eight years, be requested and urged to do so in every case where it is possible, so that the burden on the whole Diocese through the Sustentation Fund may be as light as possible.

IV. Resolved: That the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions be authorized to assess the parishes and missions of the Diocese in a sum not exceeding $20,000 for the purposes of the Sustentation Fund for 1926.

V. Resolved: That the Annual Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania records its appreciation of the generous action of the Trustees of the Pension Fund in providing an outright grant to the widow upon the death of a clergyman. The help and comfort this brings to over-strained purses and over-burdened hearts at such a crisis can hardly be exaggerated.

This Convention, however, respectfully expresses its dissent from the rule that only the widows of clergymen dying in active service shall receive this gratuity. We believe that the widows of clergymen who had already retired at the time of death deserve, and often need most, such immediate assistance. We therefore ask that in the future whatever funds are available for such kindly and Christian purpose be divided pro rata and without discrimination as to service among the widows of all the clergy dying during the year.

Resolved Further: That the Deputies from this Diocese to the General Convention of 1925 are hereby instructed to present this Resolution to that Convention as A Memorial from the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the Commission.

APPENDIX O.

Report of Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf

The work has progressed satisfactorily. Deaf-mutes living too far away from All Soul's Church are visited as often as possible by the Priest-in-charge and the parish visitor. As the Mission can have no Sunday School, there is little opportunity to give the deaf youth churchly training during the impressionable years. To supply an incentive which will attract them to church, a club has been formed with a membership of thirty-two. The people raised nearly $2500 to transform the Church basement into recreation rooms. As a result the attendance of young people at the services has noticeably increased.

A generous layman repaired the roof of Church and parish house and the fence in front, supplying also enough flagstones with which the men laid a much-needed walk. They also painted the entire exterior of the buildings, thus making up for their inability to give largely of money.

The church attendance has increased, but there is undoubtedly a large number of deaf-mutes in this city who have never heard of All Soul's Church. The Rev. Mr. Smaltz has to depend on the merest chance in finding new souls and ministering to them. Often this is only when need has brought them to the notice of an organized charity.

If those of our laymen who are employers signify their willingness to give employment to an occasional deaf-mute it would help greatly, for nearly all our deaf people are of the laboring class.

As this report is being written, the resignation of Mrs. Margaret J. Syle as parish visitor of All Souls' comes to hand. Mrs. Syle is the widow of the late Rev. Henry Winter Syle, who was the first deaf-mute clergyman ever ordained. Mrs.

Syle has been parish visitor for thirty-five years, and her work for the deaf in an unofficial capacity antedates that by fifteen years, so that actually she has spent fifty years of her life in the service of the deaf. Her solicitude for their welfare has been great. The deaf love and respect her, and her place in their hearts is forever secure. The loss of her as a parish visitor will be deplored, but no one will begrudge her the well-earned opportunity for needed rest and freedom from responsibility. With characteristic great-heartedness she accompanied her resignation with the assurance that she would still try to respond to demands made upon her time and energy by any in need of her help.

The Commission desires to place on record their deep appreciation of her devoted and valuable services.
